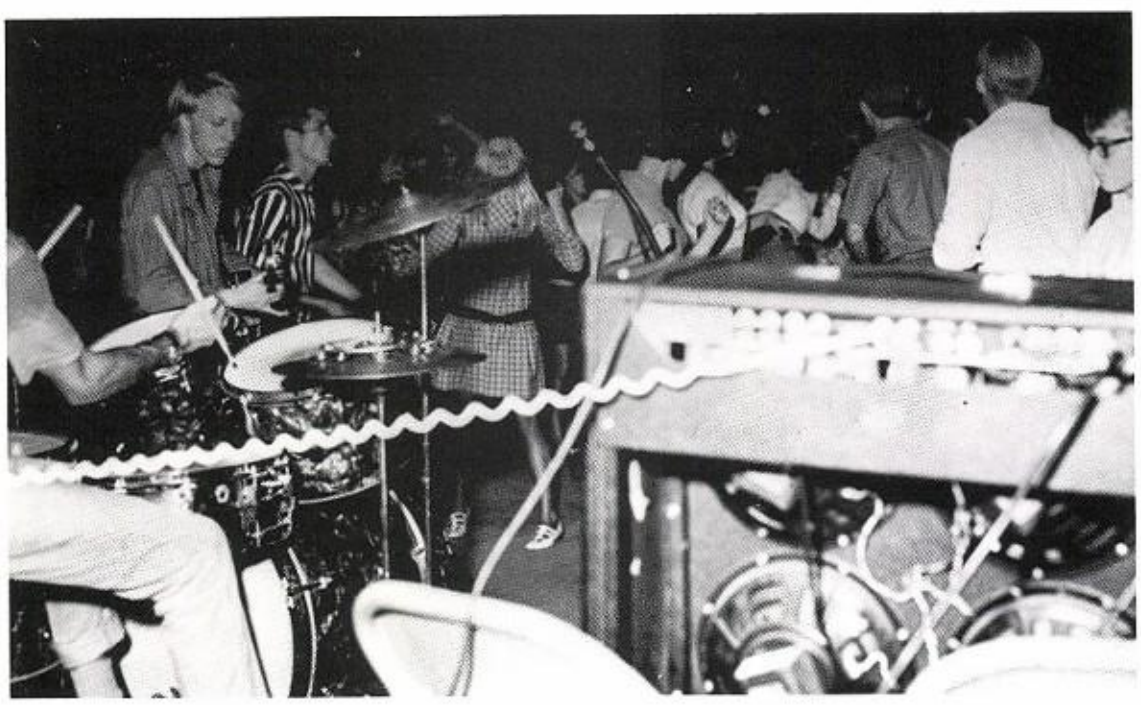
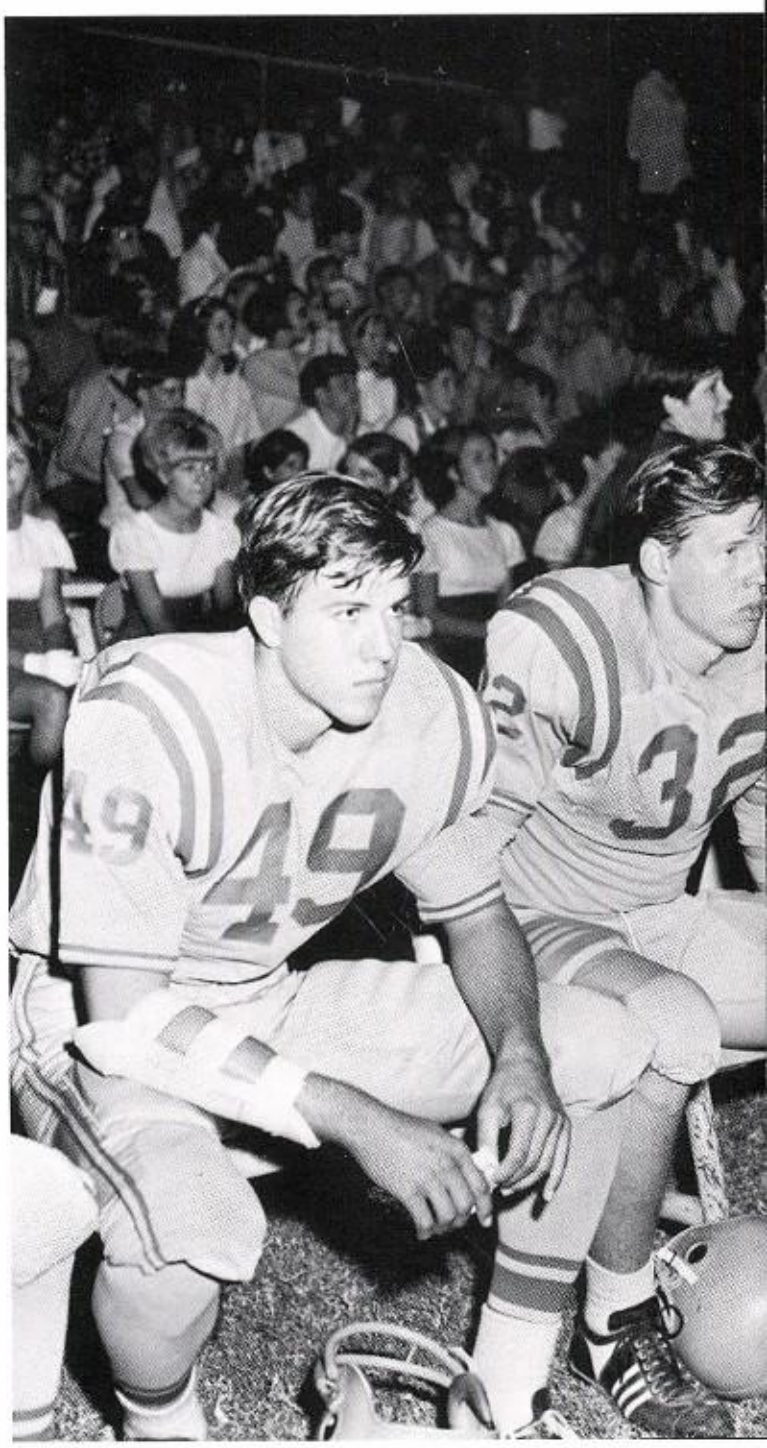
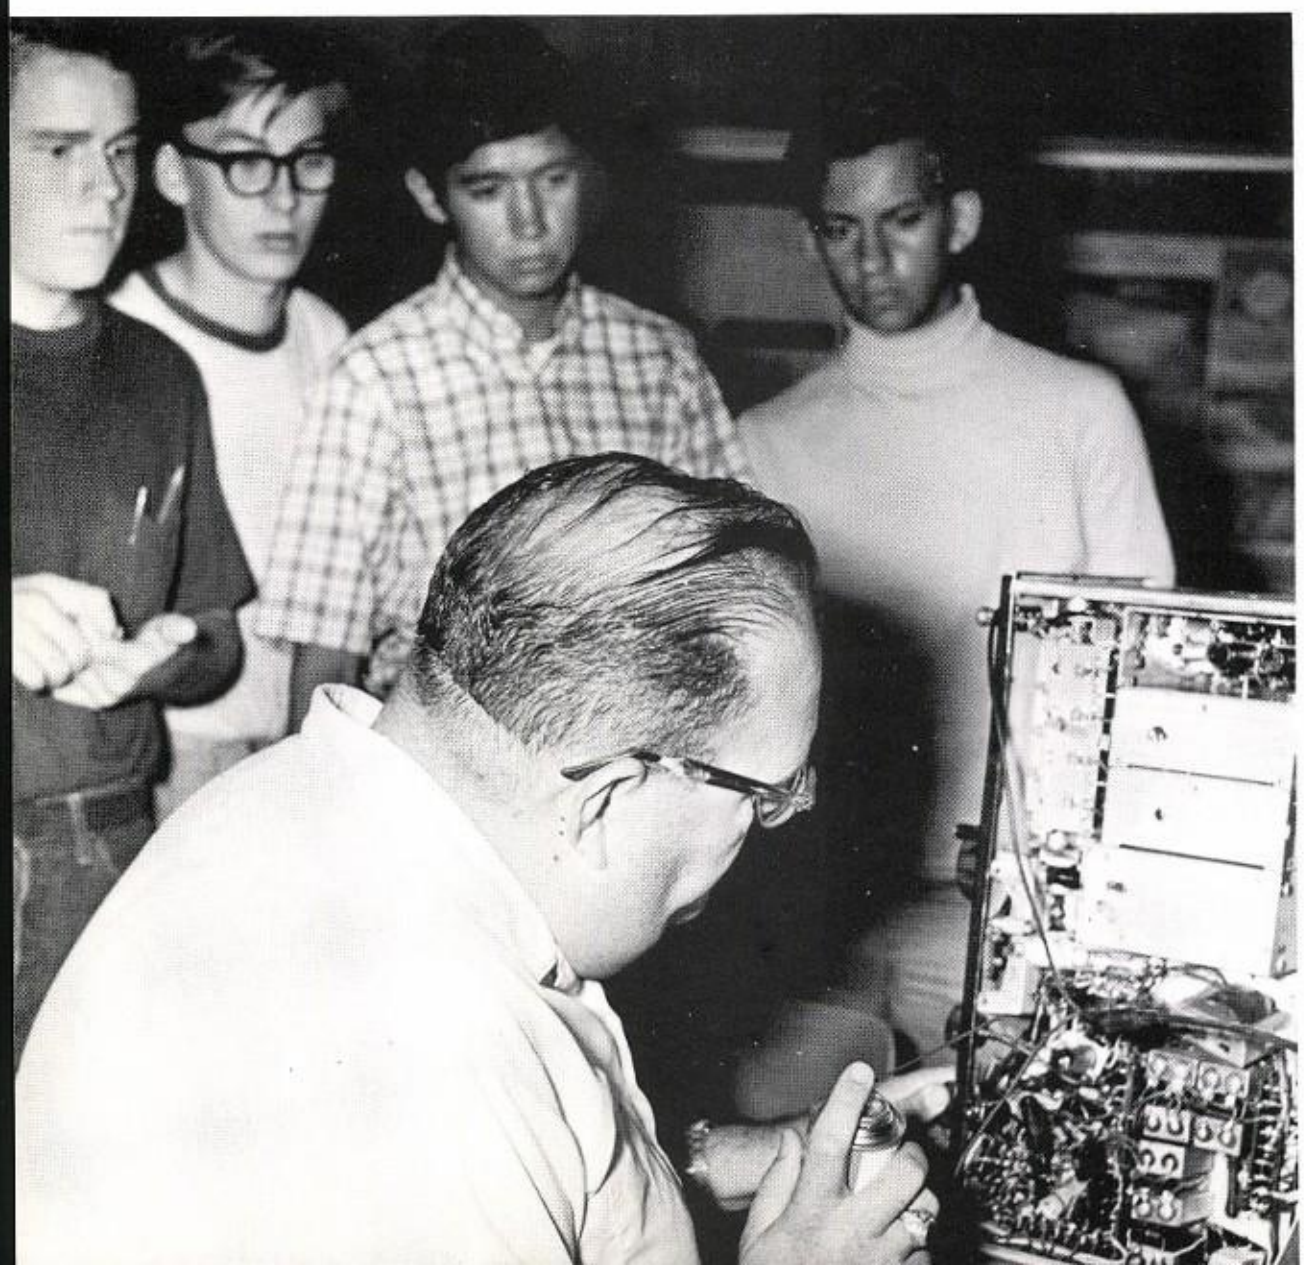
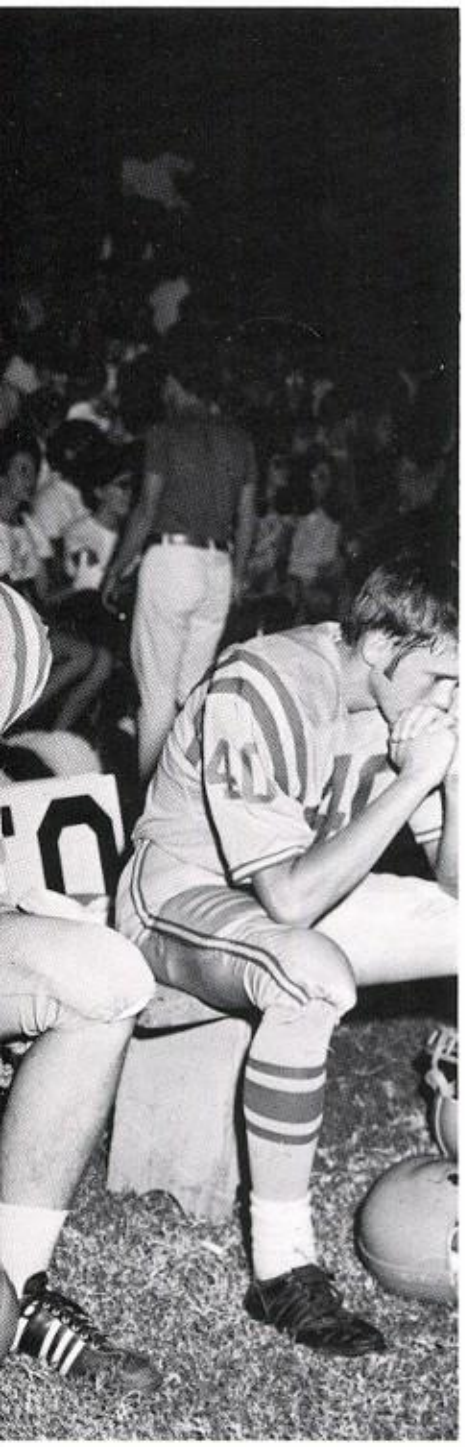
Many students find band stimulating and Larry Pivhar is no exception.









A Year in the Life, At Glendale High

Isolated moments create atmospheres for contemporary moods. The quiet stillness of the library . . . the mad crashing of a good but loud band at a Friday night dance . . . the pride of new achievements. The varied tempos of student life are set by spontaneous and informal ACTIVITIES, programs of interest and tradition. Individual enthusiasm sparks the group movements of ORGANIZATIONS. Guidance, wisdom, concern and cooperation mark the ADMINISTRATION & FACULTY. ATHLETICS cross every color of excitement and weld the student body together with pride, win or lose. CLASSES transcend from the wonders of the atom and the classic works of literature to the equally stimulating mysteries of the automobile engine or perhaps why corn grows and how to grow more of it.

Although no more than paper and print, the 1969 Cardinal is really an amazing machine that years from now will let us re-explore; laugh, cry, and love A YEAR IN THE LIFE.

Dr. Howard T. Roberts, Superintendent.

Our new principal Robert Christensen was educated in Iowa. He received his Bachelor's degree from Coe College in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. He then went on to receive his Master's degree from the University of Minnesota. Mr. Christensen held positions as a teacher and principal during his stay in Iowa. In 1956 he came to Glendale where he taught in Social Studies until 1959. From 1959 until his promotion to Principal this year, Mr. Christensen held the office of Assistant Principal.

G. H. S. Administration Changes Hands In 1969

This year at Glendale High School, there is a change of Assistant Principals resulting from the promotion of Mr. Robert P. Christensen to Principal.

Our new Assistant Principal for Student Activities is Mr. Richard Eberly. Mr. Eberly came from Valley City, North Dakota, where he received his B.S. degree from the University of North Dakota. His career before coming to Arizona included a teaching position, a principal's position, and the position of Superintendent of Schools in Ellendale, North Dakota. Before coming to Glendale, Mr. Eberly held a position as a Geography taacher at Moon Valley High School.

Mr. Charles Richardson came from New Haven, Connecticut. He received his Bachelor's and Master's degrees from the University of Tennessee. Before coming to Glendale, he held two teaching positions: one in New Orleans, Louisiana and the other in Morenci, Arizona. Mr. Richardson taught in the social studies for six years before coming to Glendale.

One of the most important positions in any high school is that of a counselor. His work must span all aspects of a student's school life—from the classroom to the athletic field. The counselor must advise his students in their course selection, their extra-curricular activities, and their social and personal problems.

At Glendale, our guidance services are among the most experienced and the best in the state. They truly span the age between the school and the student on a personal basis.

Counselors' work includes various aspects.

Personal interest in students' problems are taken by the counselors.

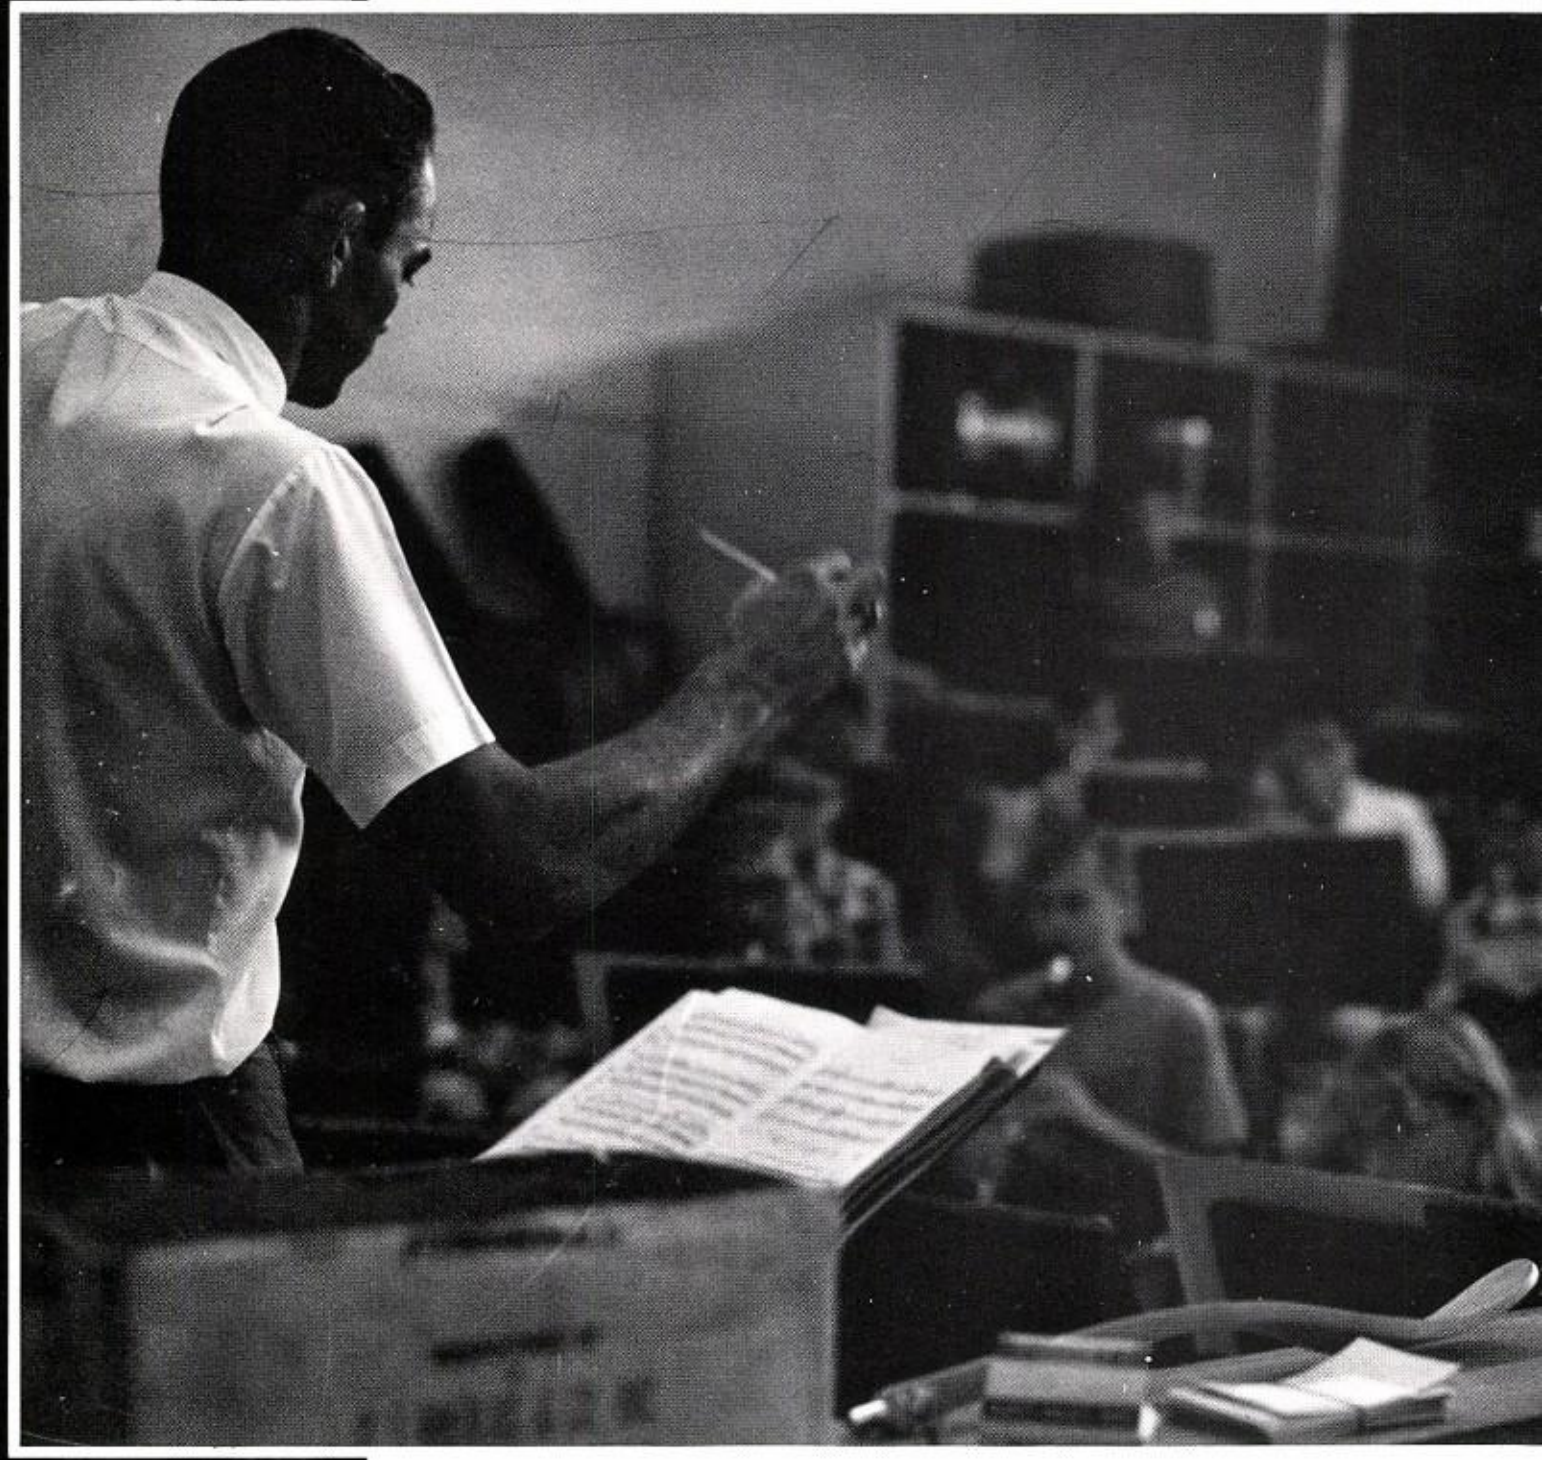
Activities

A Year



in the Life . . .

"Enter and sign in please . . ."

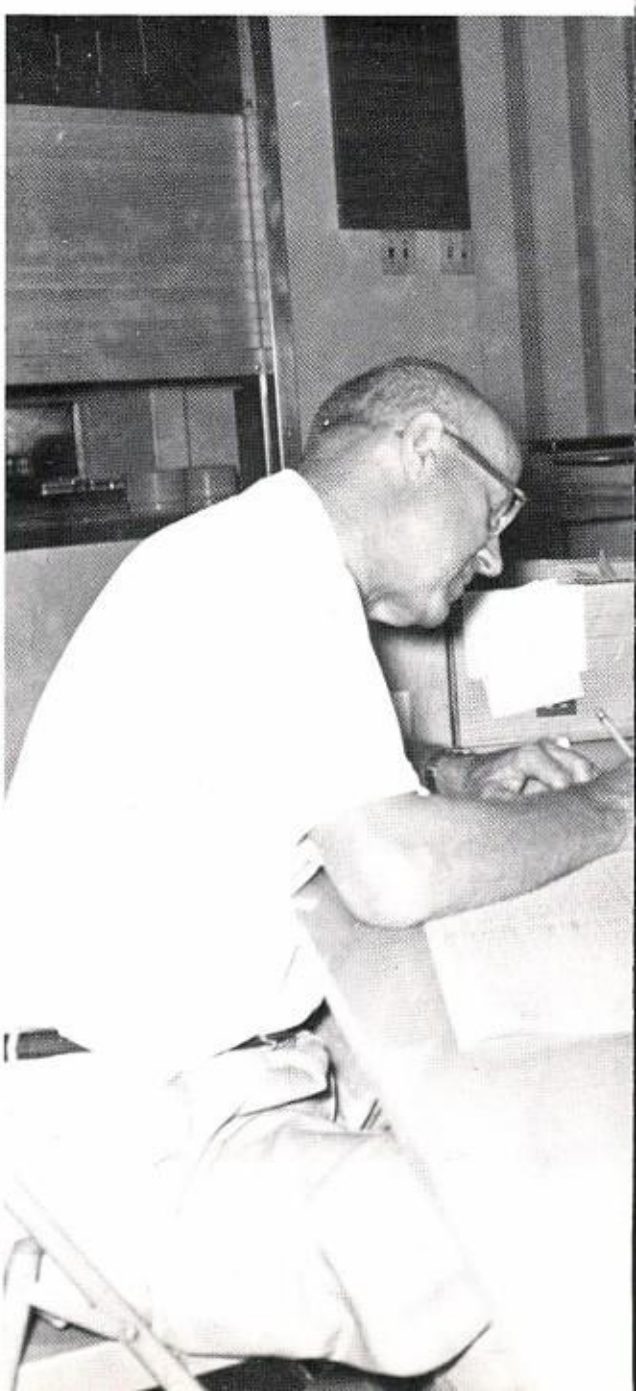
In the beginning there was registration—and what an important week it was. It marked the beginning of the school year as the first real activity of that year. It was the beginning of a year which would witness in the course of time, the election of a new U.S. President, the important Apollo Space Program, the World Series, and several dozen other events in the world's continuing parade of history.

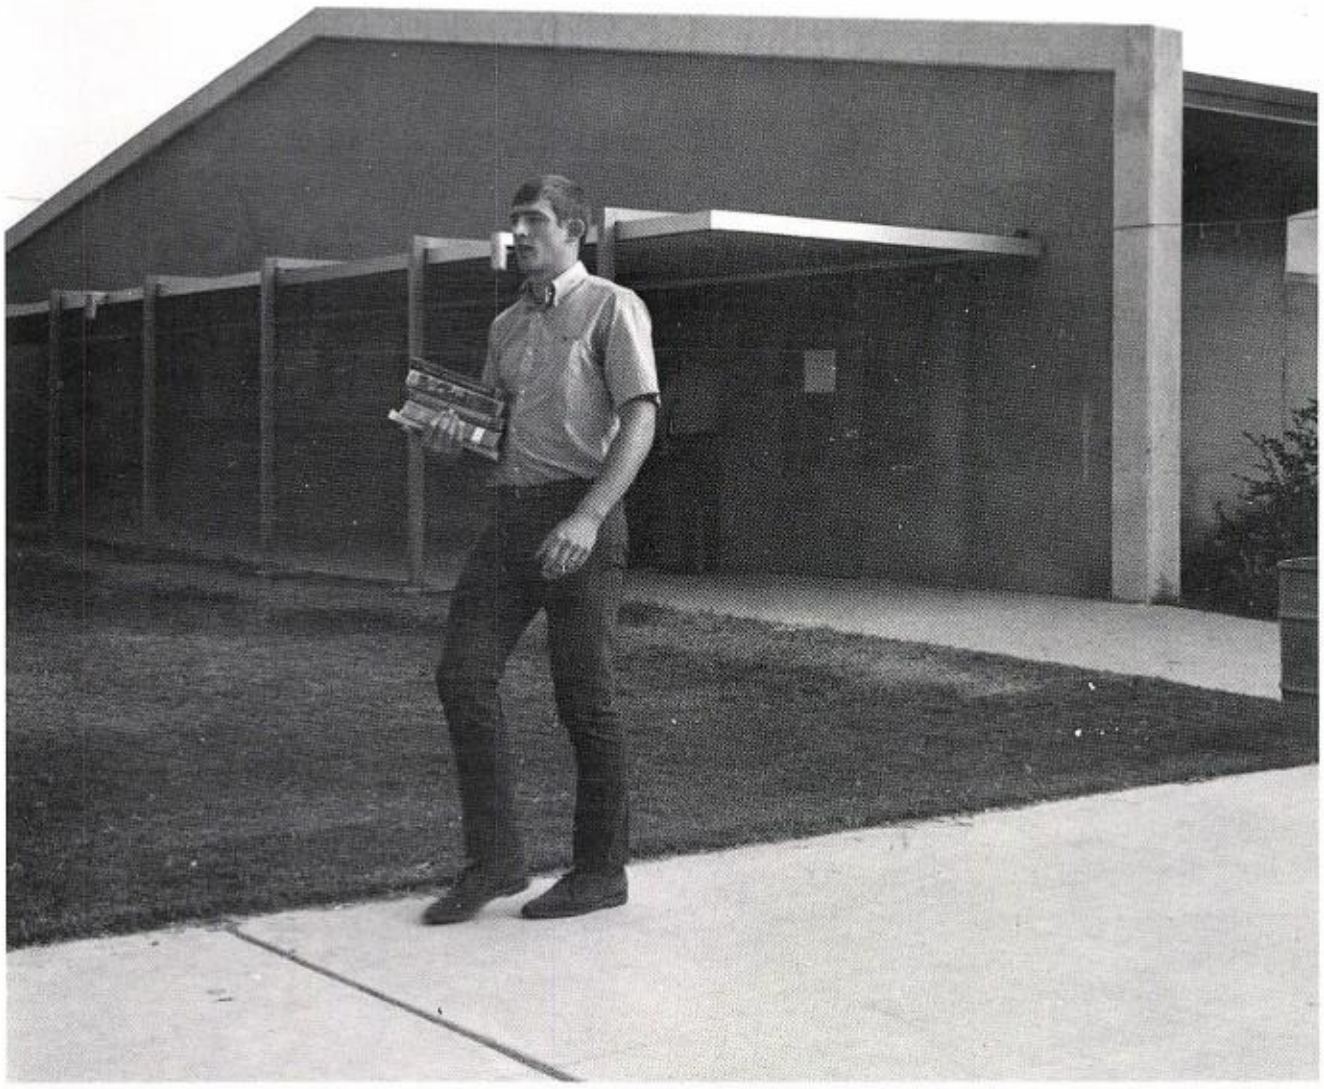
It was a beginning for Glendale students also. After their first meeting with the counselors, the freshmen looked ahead to four years of challenge; the sophomores rejoiced as they rose above freshmen status; the juniors planned ahead for a year burdened with activities; and seniors contemplated their last year of high school life and the roads that lie ahead.

During the summer, Glendale High, like any normal high school was in a state of hibernation like a bear with his seasons crossed. Then in late August, things came to life. Glendale High prepared for registration. All of the students were mailed a letter designating a day and time to register.

These students below, are seen going through the "paces" of registration. Their first stop is Mrs. Armstrong who is shown preparing some forms to "fill out in triplicate please". When the red tape is finished, they will go on to the bookstore to receive their school books.

Senior Pam Decker talks with counselor Mr. Branson during registration. The counselors form an important part of the school function. They provide advice and guidance for the students and help them make important decisions for the school year, and years to come.





Steve Lunn, Glendale High's foreign exchange student from New Zealand had to go through the procedure of registration like the other students. Steve had been in America for only a short while, so his AFS "mother" Mrs. Robert Sexton, was on hand to help out that day. (Left) Steve leaves the bookstore with a "ton" of books, and after a short walk, puts them in his locker (below).

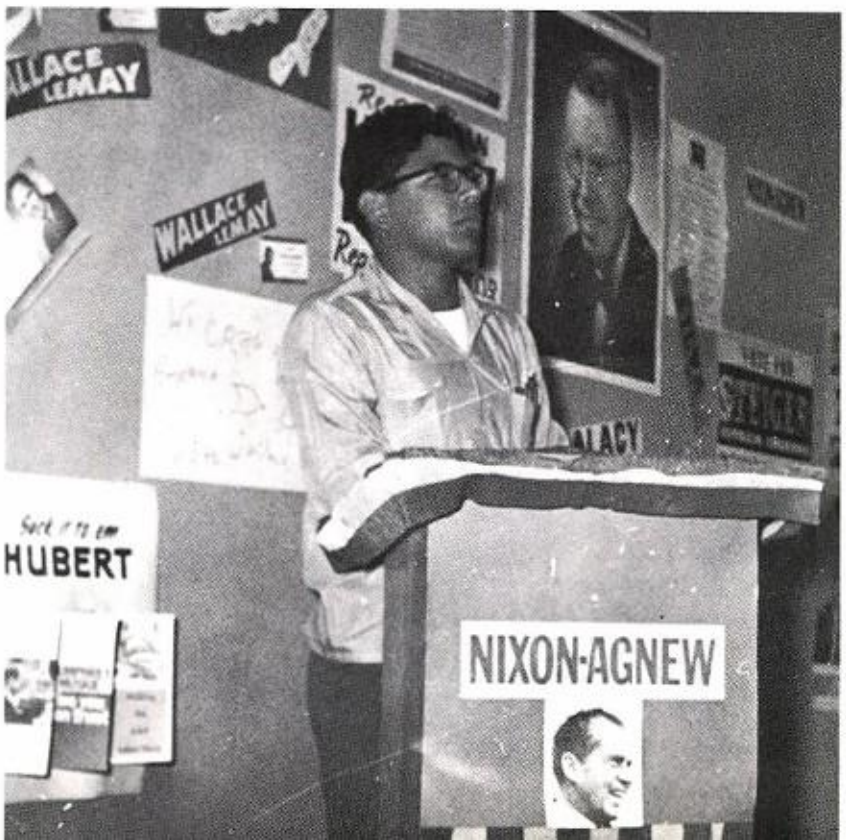
Senior Jim Contes (right), seems happy about something. Maybe it was the summer trip he took to his ancestral home of Greece. Upon his return to school, he showed slides and talked about the country in social studies and senior English classes who were studying about Greece.

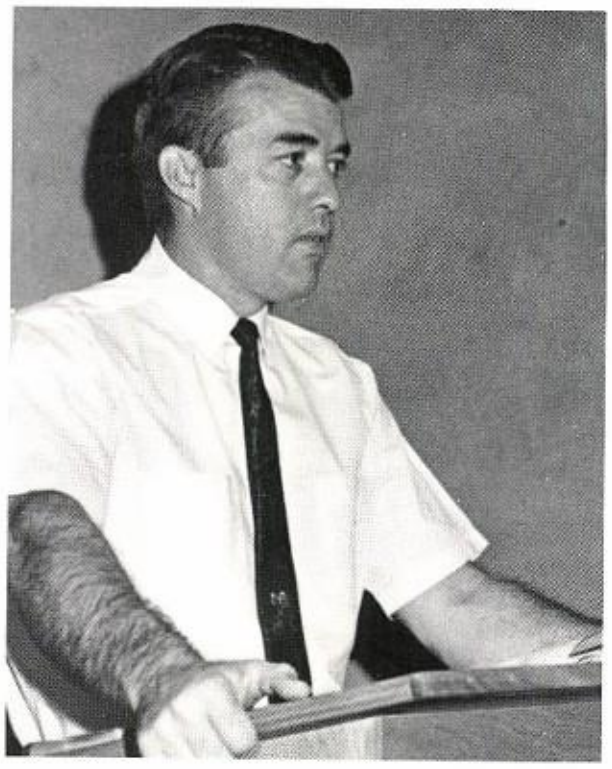
Glendale High School Students, seniors in particular, found many opportunities to prepare for the future. Engaging in politics and traveling, are some ways that students learn how to be tomorrow's leaders.

NAU, U of A, and ASU invited high school students to visit and tour the campus during Saturday Senior Days. On GHS College Day, speakers from the major colleges, universities, and military installations came to inform students on plans they could make. At the left, Tonni Tenuta and Linda Patterson attend one of many College Day sessions. With them is Dr. Virgil I. Gillenwater, executive vice president of Northern Arizona University.

for future careers



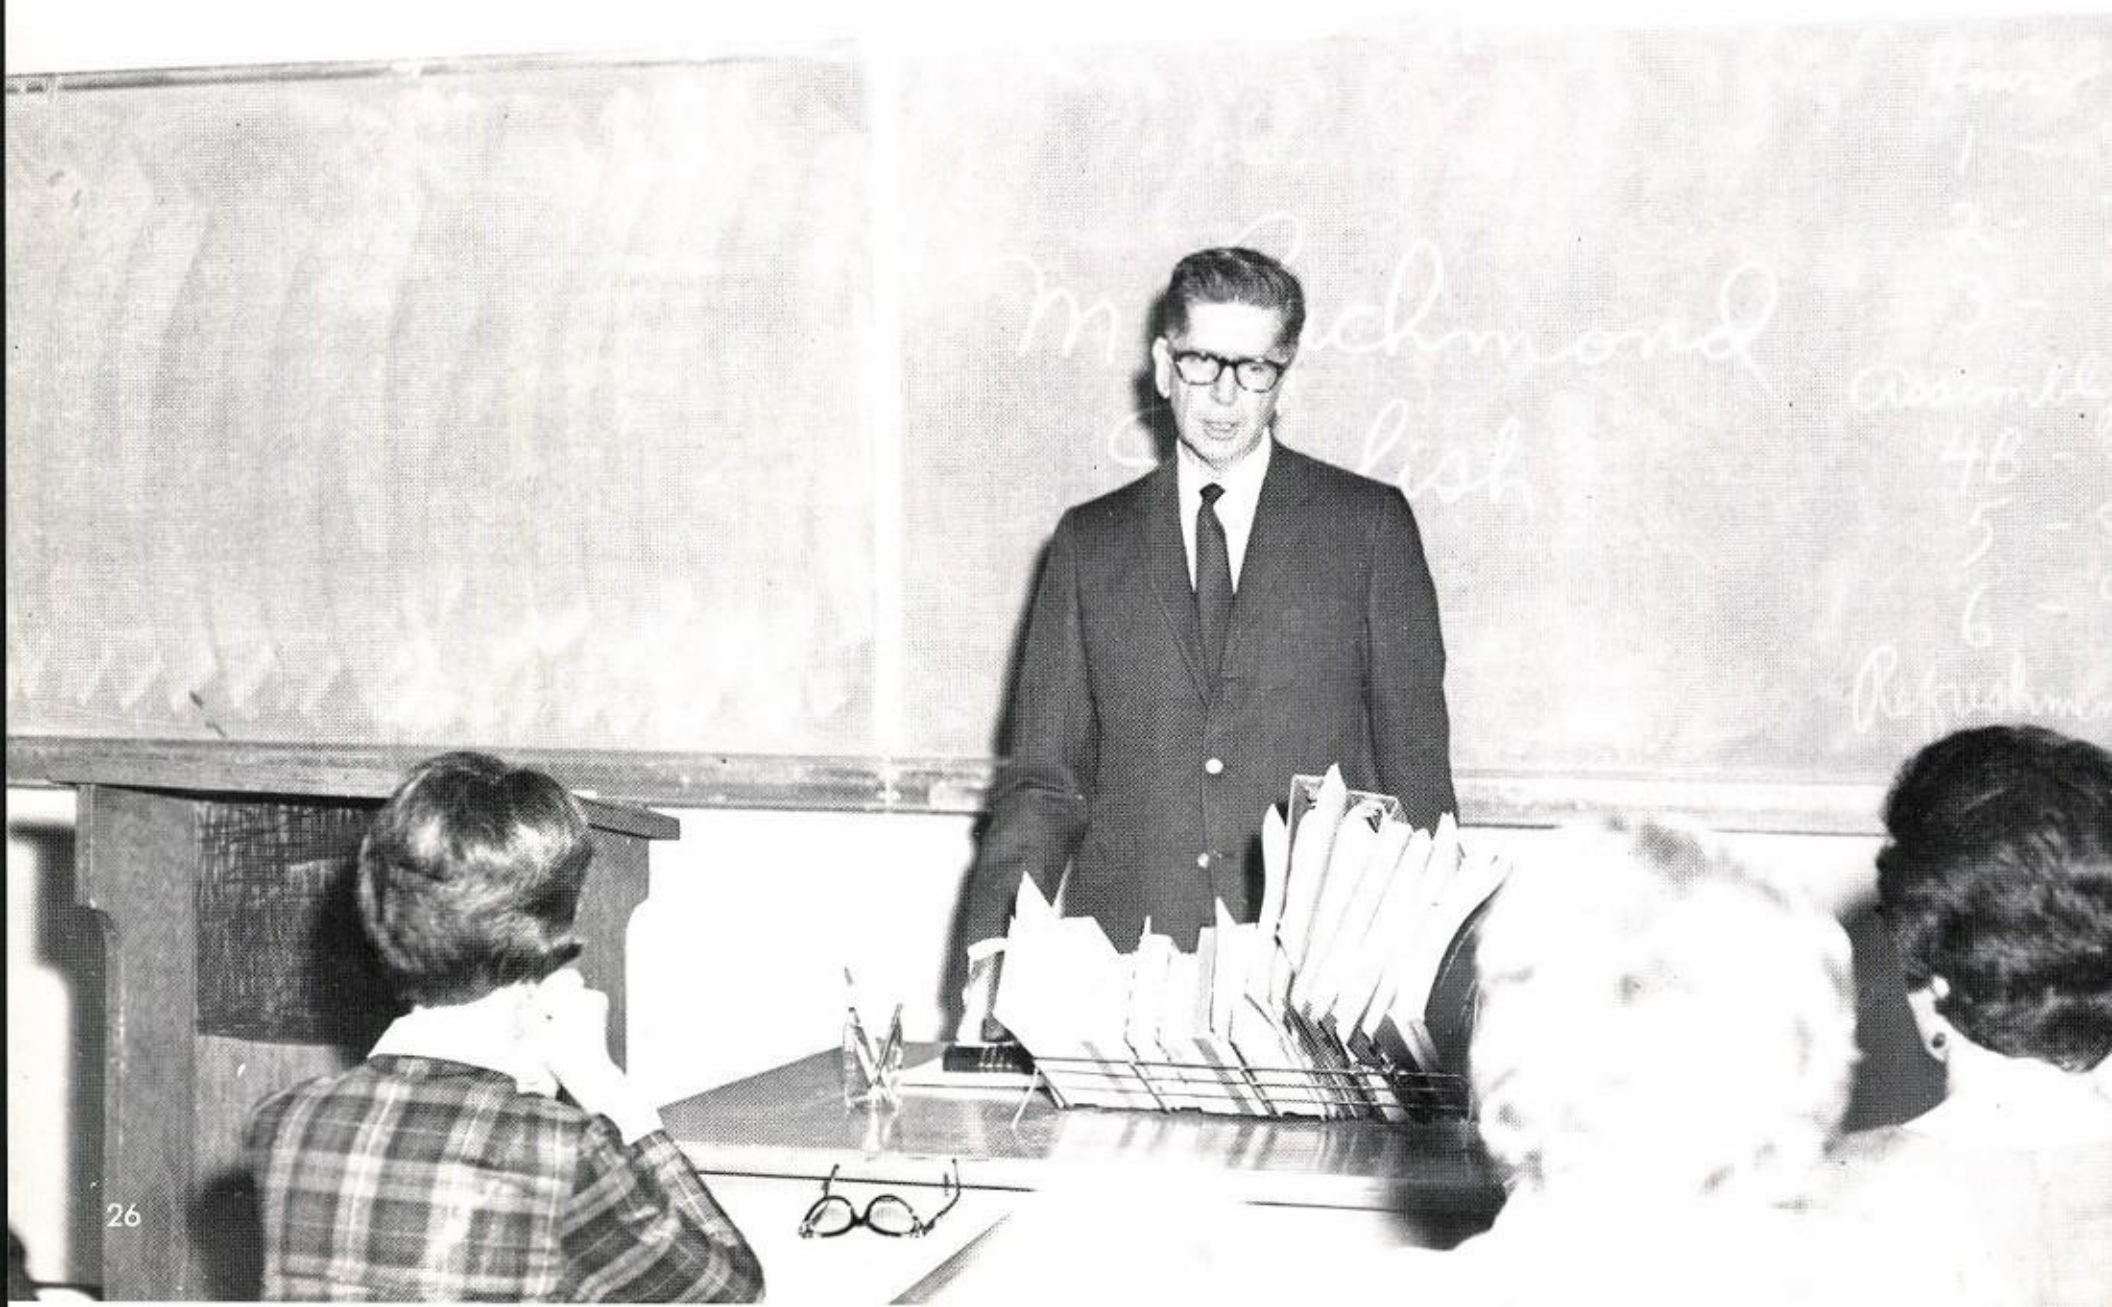
This school year began as the 1968 Presidential Election came to an end. As election day itself drew closer, Glendale High School students took part in Campaign '68. While some students worked in real campaigns, many students, particularly Juniors and Seniors, campaigned and held mock elections in their classes. In a "Cardinal Hi-Lites" newspaper preference poll, the student body favored Richard M. Nixon over Vice-President Hubert Humphrey, while Governor George Wallace received a sizable amount of votes. It was evident that the school wasn't much different from the nation as a whole.



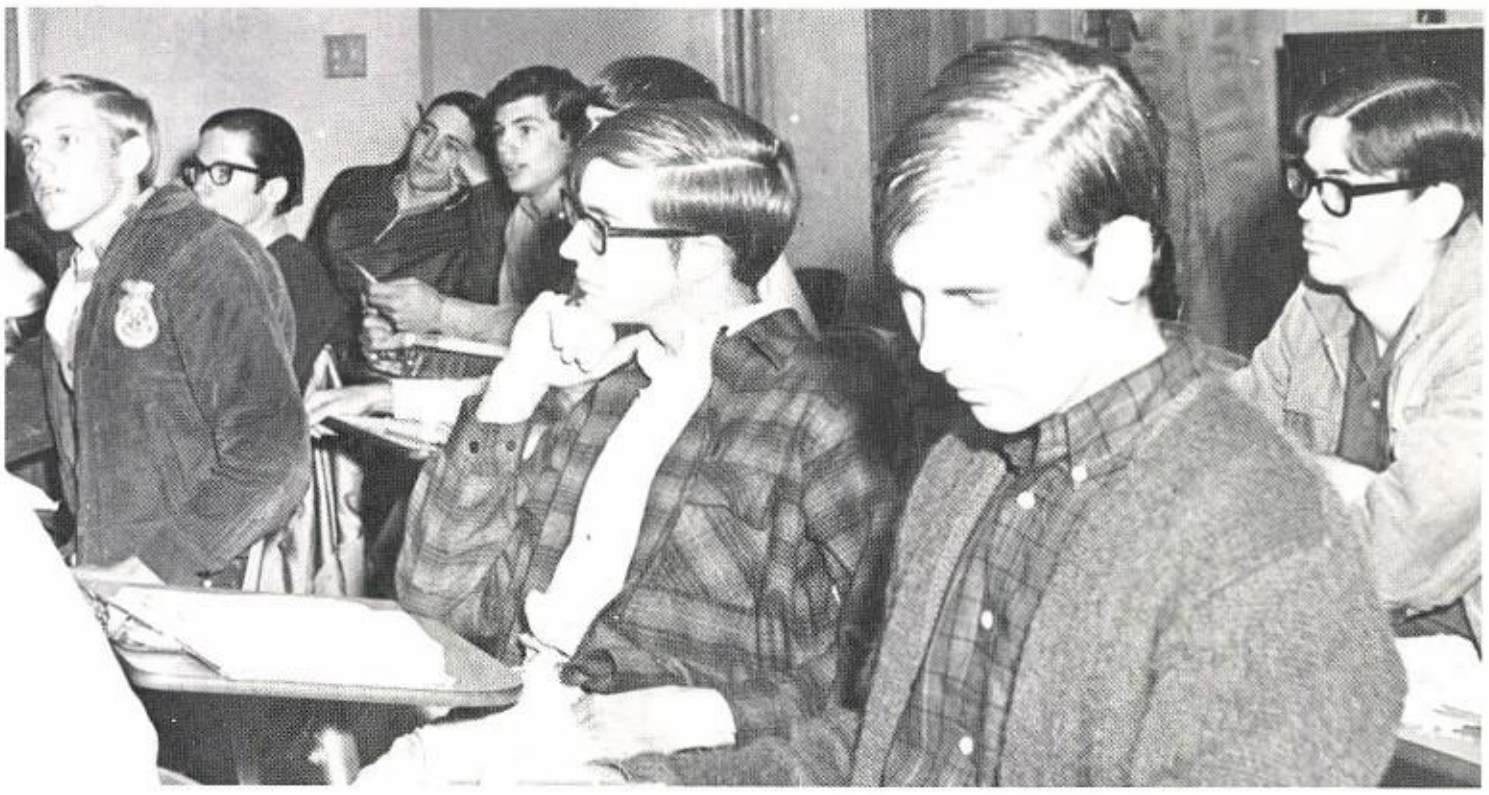
Each instructor has his own method of teaching. Mr. McAnerny (above) places emphasis on tests, while Mr. Richmond, (below, with parents) prefers group projects and individual work. He puts much of the responsibility on the student's own initiative.

"The classroom is the backbone of the school . . ."

RARY AFFAIRS



During Open House, parents are able to see the classrooms and meet the teachers. This year, parents followed a schedule similar to the students' with fifteen minute sessions. Mr. Ham (left) is shown in such a session. Unfortunately disinterest was shown by a large portion of parents this year, when only a few parents came, as shown by Mr. Ham's almost empty classroom. Since Open House is a good opportunity for parents to come in direct contact and communication with the school, it is hoped that more parents will take advantage of it.



Regardless of size, age, or location, a classroom is still the backbone of the school. Whether it be in a little schoolhouse of the 1800's, or one of several in a large, modern, multipurpose campus, the classroom is the one place where a student spends his most time during his education. Shown above is Mr. McAnerny's Senior Math Class, one of many in Glendale High School's Mathematics program.

During the early months of the school year, students and adults alike were entertained with a fine fall schedule of programs, provided by Glendale High's excellent drama and music departments. As usual, the Glendale High School Cardinal Band highlighted the football games with good music and difficult marching formations. On Wednesday, October 23, the Vocal Music Group under the direction of Mr. Keith Maves treated Glendale High to an inspiring tribute to America. Patriotic songs, ballads, and a short presentation by senior Jim Dillehay showed us that we sometimes forget how wonderful our country is.

Comedy, Mystery, and pure insanity were on the agenda for the Glendale High School Thespian Society's production of Arthur Kesselring's "Arsenic and Old Lace." A long time favorite of many, the play was recreated on the auditorium stage with all its wacky characters and their fiendish plots. Many thanks went to David Tosh, Dan Davis, Kevin Robertson, Tom Sing, Mike Hutchinson, Linda Craft, Dennis Long, Danny Aldridge, Charles Wood, and all the other members of the stage crew, whose tedious work provided an impressive Victorian set for the mood and realism of the production. The play was shown on November seventh, eighth, and ninth, and was under the direction of Mrs. Sylvia Thomas.

(Left) The cast of the play portrays many strange characters, including (from left to right on the top row), Jonathon Gericke, Rick Greenwell, Lee Stevens, Peggy Person, Rick Stewart, Roger Kaye, and Mrs. Sylvia Thomas. From left to right on the bottom row are Mike Barnard, Pat Lentz, Becky Sidinger, and Lynn Baird. Not shown are Brian Easley, Marvin Person, Dennis Allen, and Craig Abts.

Fine Arts have a fine fall

1968

Homecoming

Over 1900 students crowded into the girl's (Van Camp) gym Nov. 15, to hear A.S.B. President, Pam Marr (above) inform us of the revised homecoming program.

Rain and a confused schedule dampened the 1968 homecoming in most every area, except the high spirits of those who attended the pep rally, dance and game. The traditional parade through downtown Glendale was canceled, but the floats were displayed at the game which was moved to Saturday night. Crowned at the dance Friday night were Queen Vera Tolmachoff, and King James Dillehay, who will reign as the 1968 homecoming monarchy. Attendants were Tonni Tenuta, Gary Tolmachoff, Pam Marr, and Tom Davis.

The Senior class float won first prize, the Junior class float came in second, and the Freshman class float took third place.

The game ended in a tie, and during half time, the Moon Valley High School band gave a fine performance since Glendale's band was unable to play.

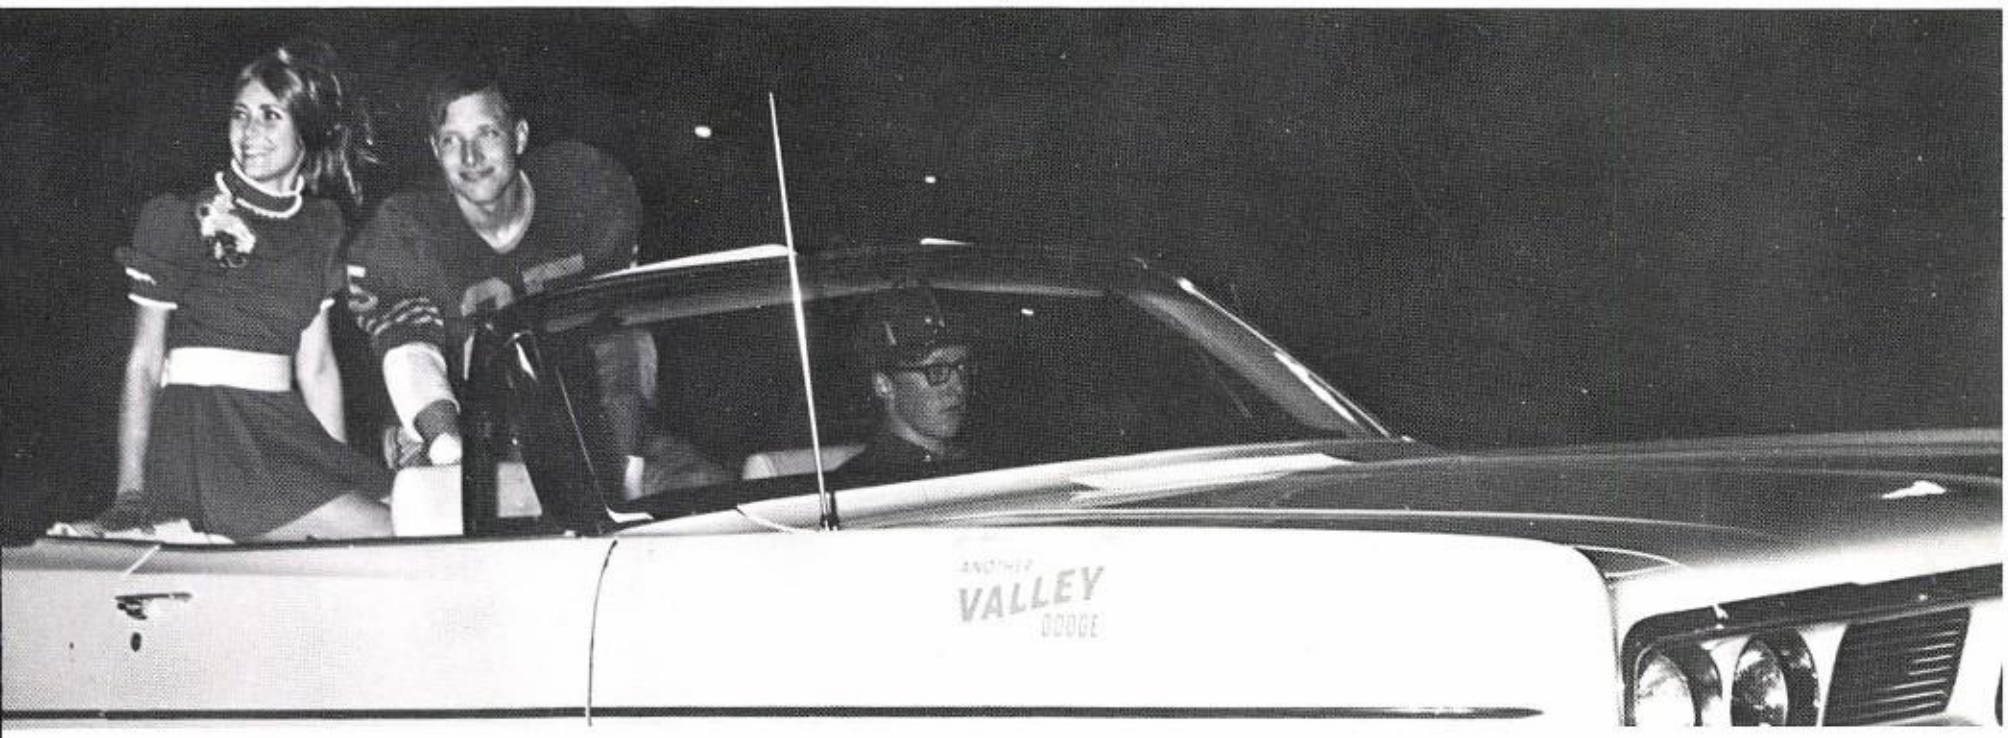
(Above) Students run from the Gym in pouring rain. This year's pep rally was a far cry from last year's rally which was held in the sun-drenched football stadium. The pep rally ended a hectic and wet Friday school session, and because the downtown parade and evening football game were cancelled, activities didn't resume until 9:30 that night when the homecoming dance began. (Below)



The climax of Homecoming was the half time parade of the king and queen at the Saturday football game. Jim Dillehay and Vera Tolmachoff were crowned the evening before at the homecoming dance. They are shown above being chauffeured by senior Bart Leuser in the car that heads the line of floats.

Royalty rolls into school history

Much preparation goes into planning a good homecoming program. Preliminary plans are made weeks in advance, by the student Senate whose Homecoming, and Ideas and Projects Committees plan the agenda and choose a theme. This year's theme was "the Shapes of Things to Come". Royalty candidates are nominated in the classrooms. While the publicity committee announces dates and times, the classes and organizations adopt a procedure for constructing a float. Homecoming floats are begun about two weeks in advance. Materials are obtained and a wagon, trailer, or other vehicle is moved to someone's house to be transformed into something symbolic of the theme. At the right, members of the senior class work on the skirt of their float destined to win first place. Pictured from left to right are Karen Motoyoshi, Gary Roper, and Nancy Mutchmore. Prize-winning floats are a tradition with this class soon to graduate.

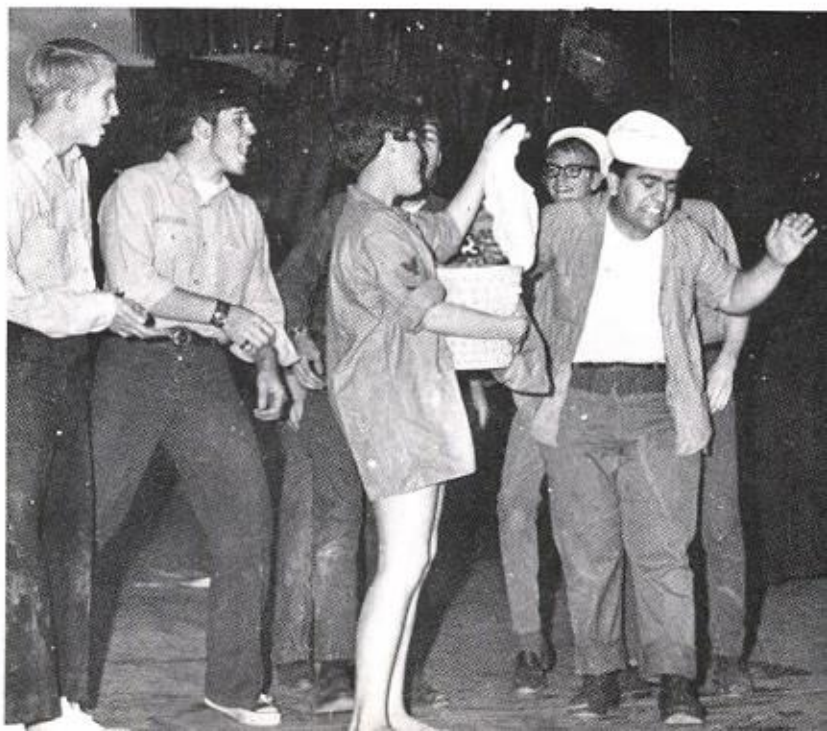
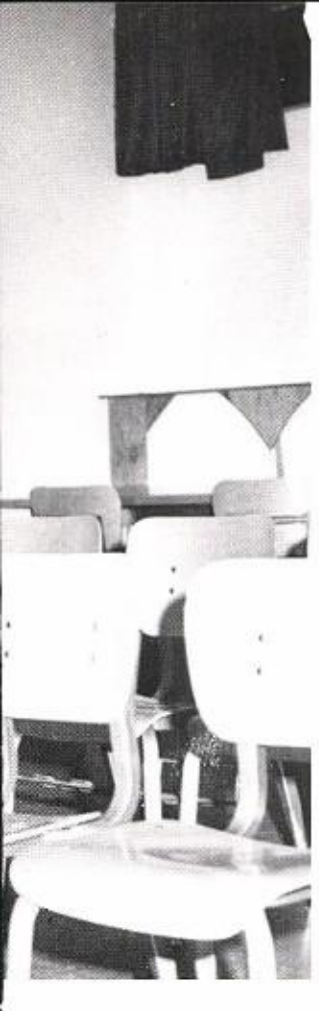
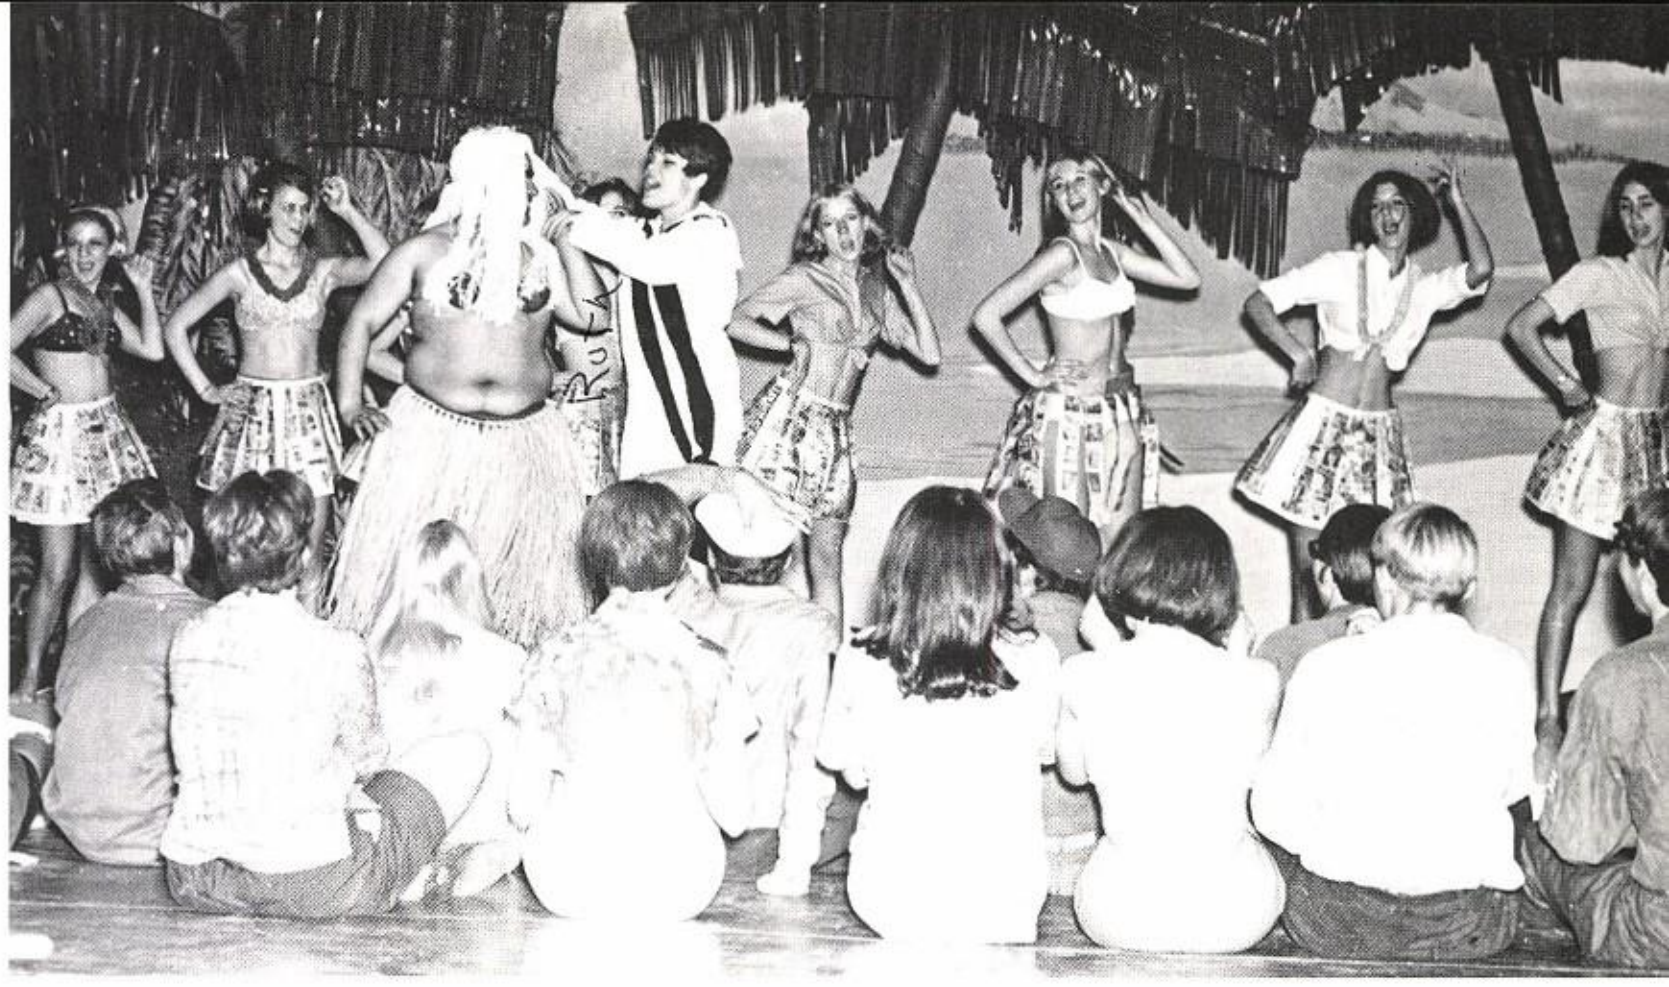
Rodger's and Hammerstein's Broadway Hit "South Pacific" was performed on the Glendale stage. Peggy Person (Above, middle) and Cindy Taylor shared the role made famous by Mary Martin of Ensign Nellie Forbush, who falls in love with French planter and fugitive Emile De Becque, played by Jim Dillehay (Above, Left). De Becque undertakes a dangerous mission with Marine Lt. Joe Cable. Cable falls in love with Liat, an island girl from Bali H'ai. They were played by Tom Davis and Candy McGinnis, (Above, Right). Ruth Allen was understudy for Liat. Lynn Baird was understudy for Cable.







One of the most colorful characters of the play was "Sea Bee", Luther Billis performed by Leonard Escudero and Lee Stevens. Above, Billis portrays the lovely(?) Honeybun during the base Thanksgiving show. The nurse's chorus line made it a real production number. Billis, a true con man, spends most of his time trying to cheat island con woman Bloody Mary, played by Janis Sanderson (far left middle) and Pat Lentz.

Glendale High has a variety of dances ranging from the "levy and leather-clad" Harvest Dance to the formal Prom. Tri-Hi-Y sponsors two other formals —the Sweetheart Dance, and the Christmas Formal. The two semi-formals, Homecoming and the Coronation Ball was set to the music of the "Factory" featuring Glendale students: Danny Poff, Gary Lowe, Mike Davis, and Maynard Fronda. The dance was held on Jan. 24.

Senior Bonnie Sherman (left), who spent ten weeks last summer in the Dominican Republic as an AFS student representing Glendale, has been active throughout the year on the AFS Committee. Earlier this year, the organization sponsored a dance and field day. Bonnie has helped to pass legislation in the Student Senate to make the committee a club. The new AFS Club, whose sole responsibility is to welcome, guide, and assist AFS students, along with raising money for the organization, goes into effect second semester.

"Potpourri of Year's Highlights"

Senior Sandy Wilkerson poses with Jim Lang, host of the popular ABC TV show, "The Dating Game", after winning her dream date on the show. Chosen over two other contestants, Sandy won a trip to "Melodyland" in Anaheim, California. Sandy hopes the television spot will enhance her plans to become a professional model.

Senior Bill Asdell is shown below accepting some gag gifts from his friends who came to Sky Harbor Airport to see him depart for Washington, D.C. From Saturday, February 22, to Saturday, March 1, Bill attended the Presidential Classroom at the Capital city, which served as an aid in his study of politics and government. In school, Bill has helped to revitalize the active student senate by rewriting and reorganizing the Student Body Constitution and helping in the revision of the senate tax system, and the reorganization of the senate committees.

The American Field Service, an organization that sponsors a cultural and educational student exchange program, welcomed Stephan Lunn from New Zealand onto the Glendale High campus this year. "Steve" stayed at the Glendale home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sexton. Their son, Doug, a senior, was Steve's American brother.

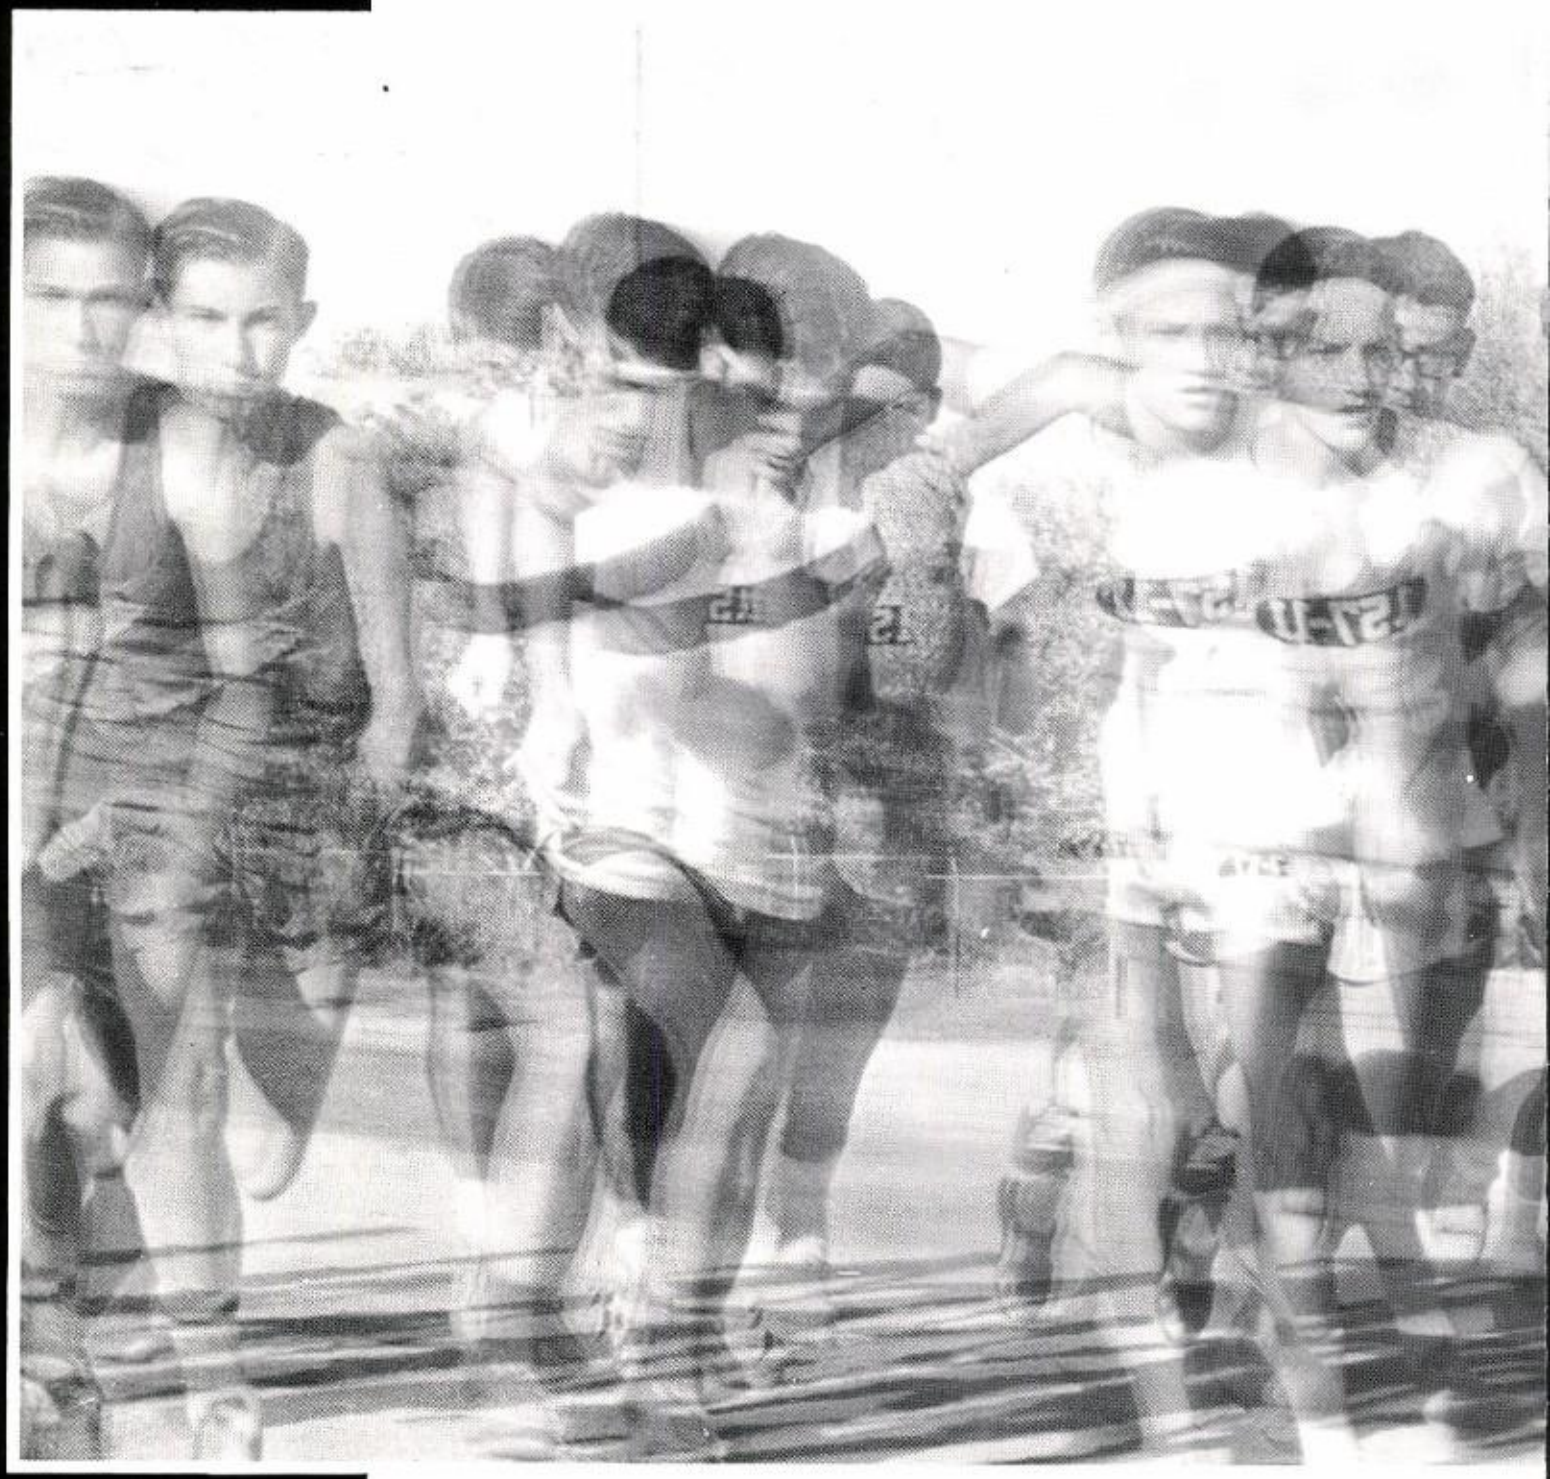
A Year

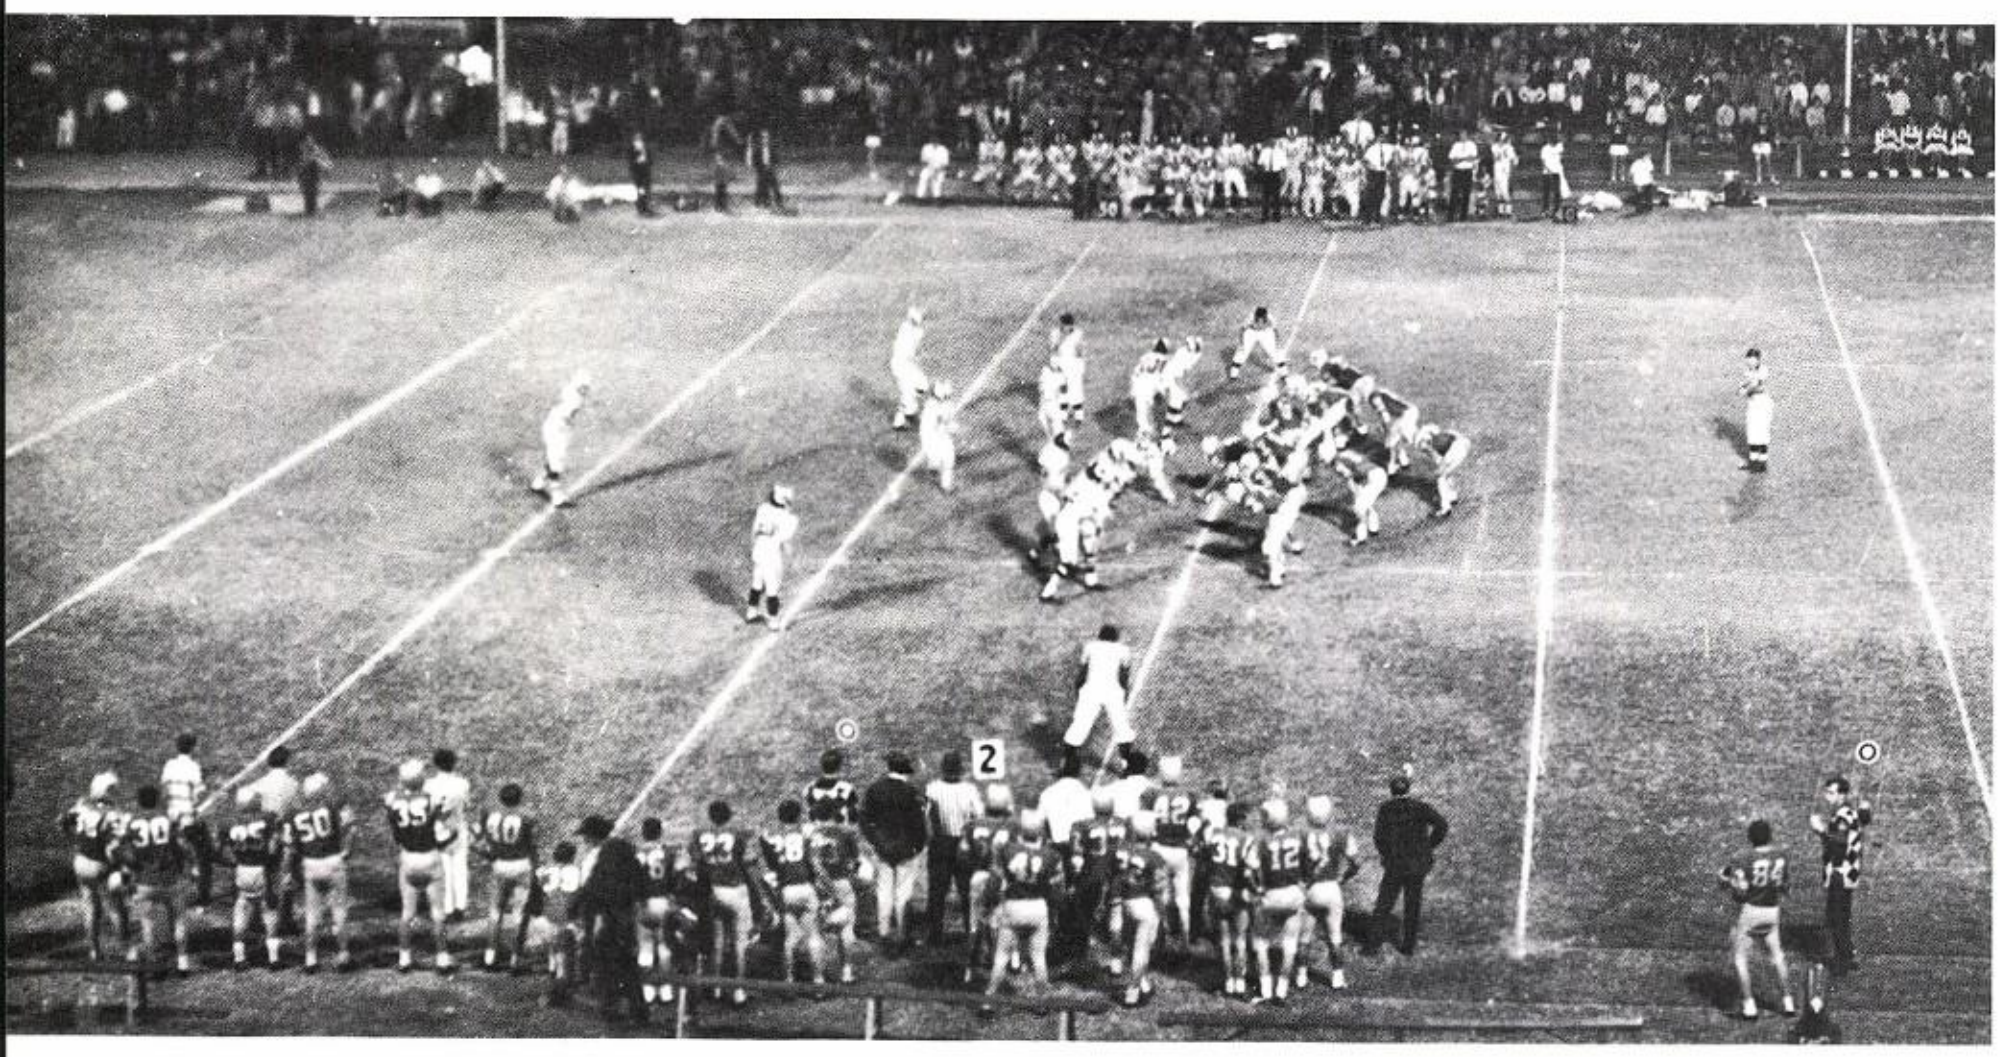


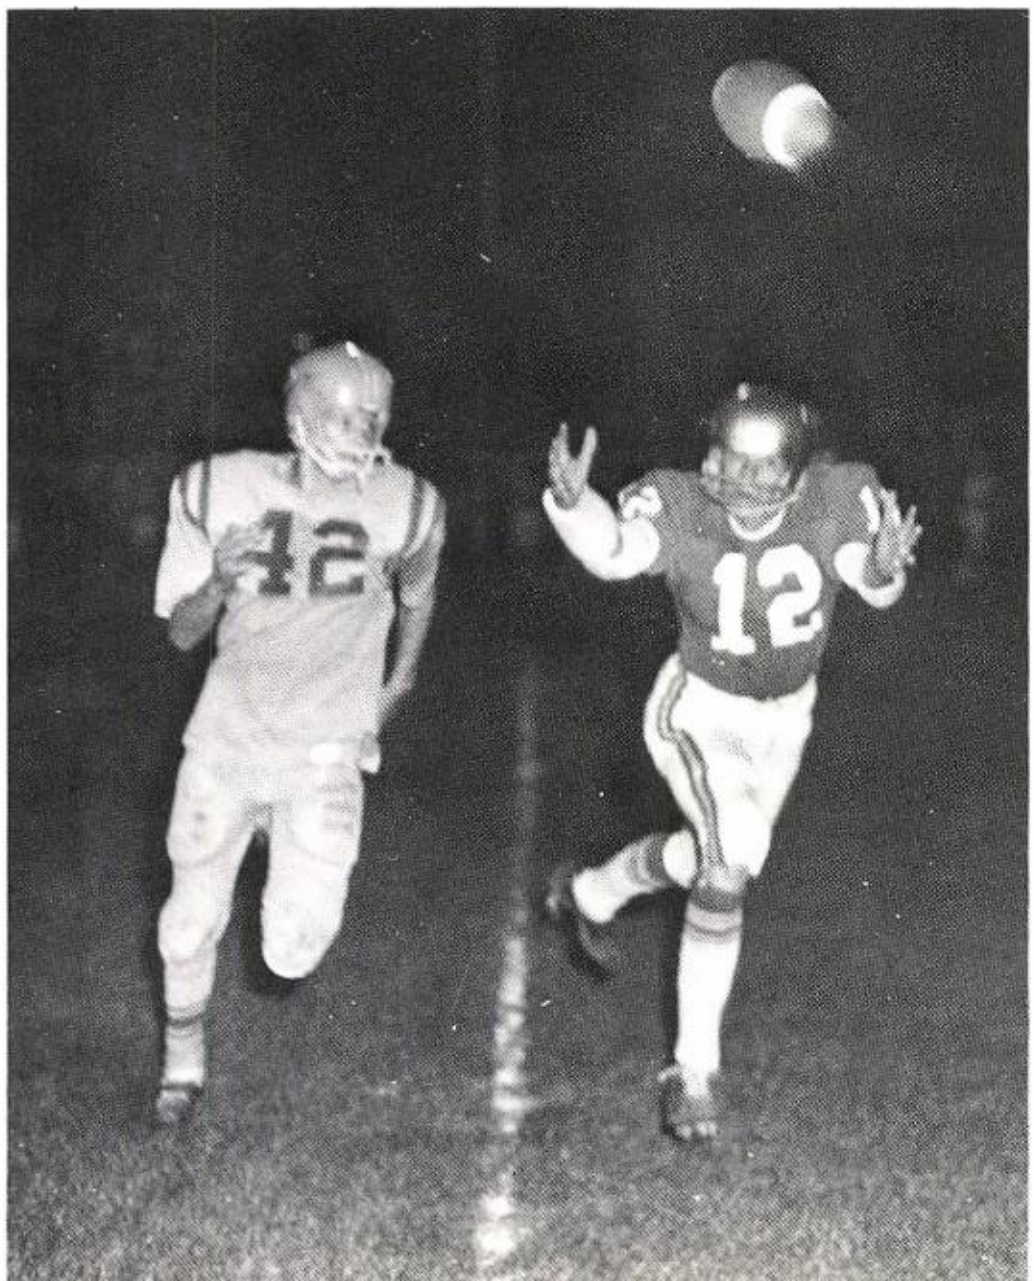
in the Life . . .

Football . . .

A Contact Sport.

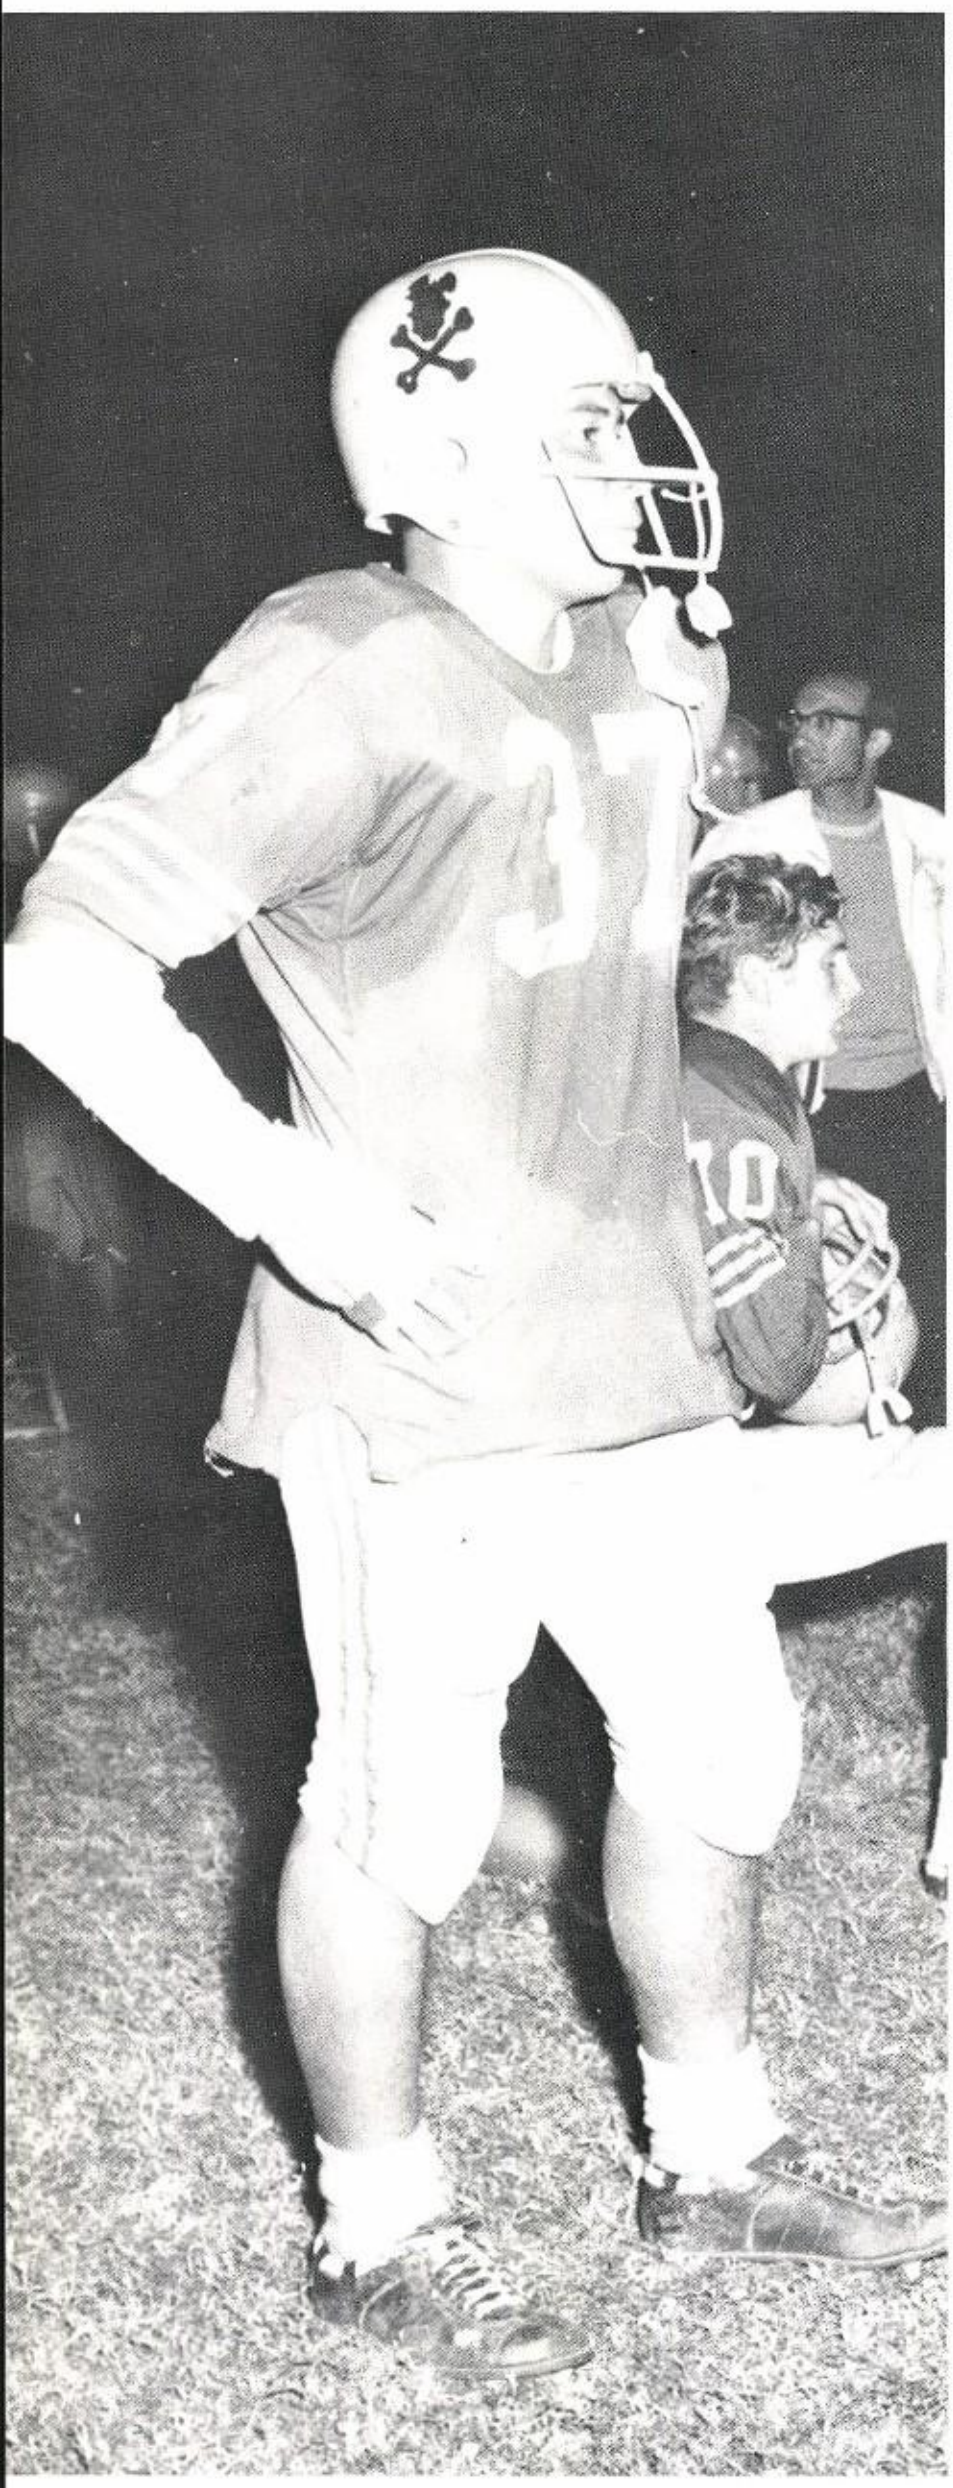
If you stand on the sidelines during a football game you can hear the opposing lines of players collide as one team tries to move the ball down the field while the other tries, just as desperately to gain control of the ball and then move it in the opposite direction. As the two teams line up against each other, the defense doesn't really know what the offense will do until the ball is snapped and sometimes the offense doesn't know either. A sweeping run around the end could be attempted or else, perhaps, a spiralling aerial attack. But you never know, till the ball is snapped . . .

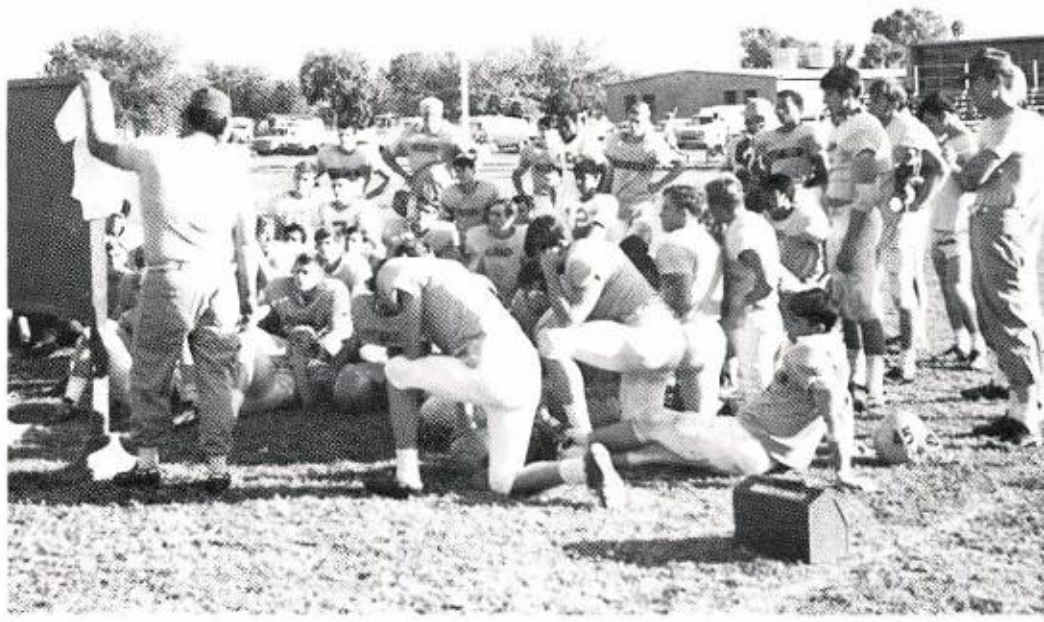


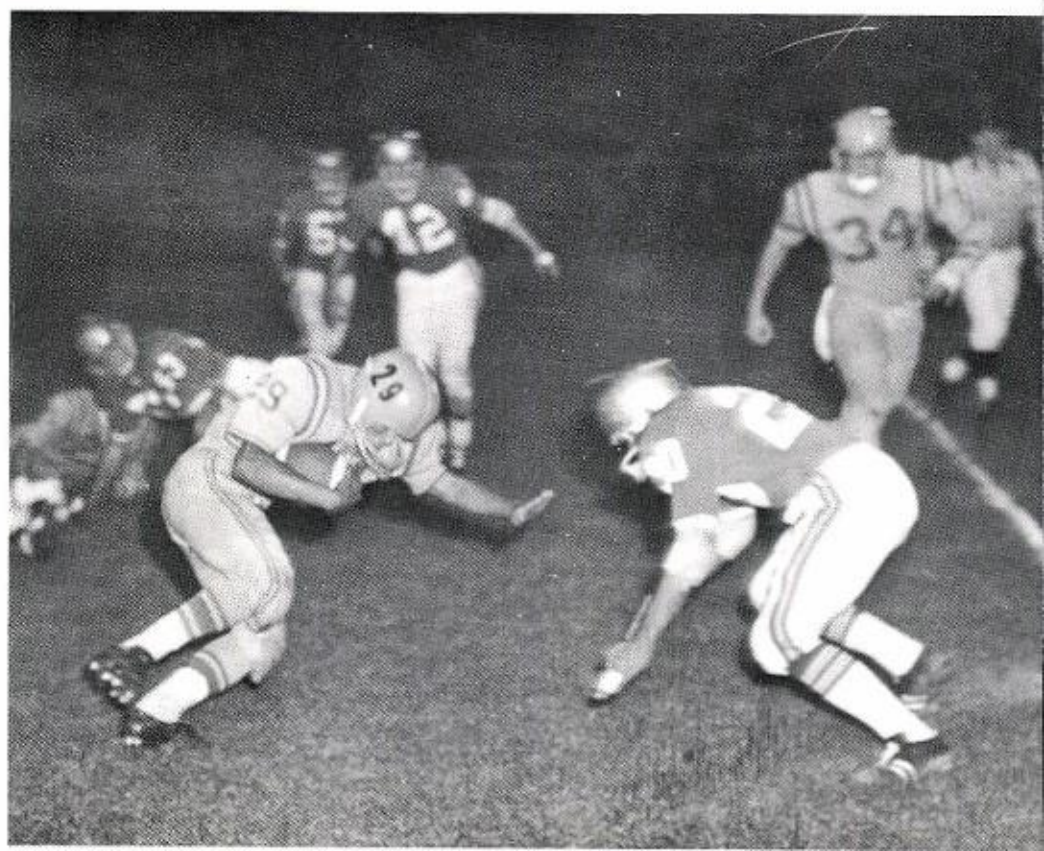


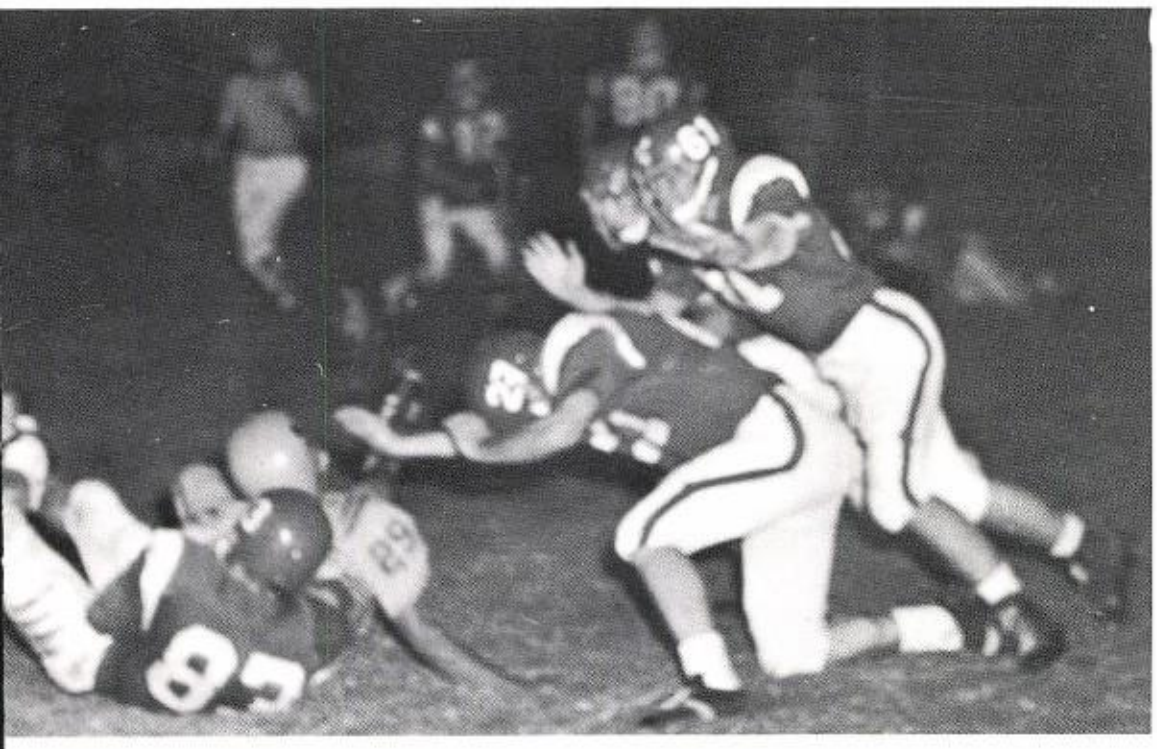
Glendale used as a staple, the running play this year. Louis Sario (above) sweeps around the end of the Brophy line at the game played with the "Broncs" at Central High. Although the Cards fought their best we went down 14-6 to lose our 5th straight.

Neal Jacobs (left) defends effectively against a hard rushing Flagstaff receiver. Glendale went on to pummel the Eagles 37-6 in the Cards biggest win of a bitter 2-7-1 season. At the extreme left the Cardinal offense lines up against the Rams of Washington High. Glendale fought a hard fight but late drives by the Rams assured their 20-14 win over the Cards.

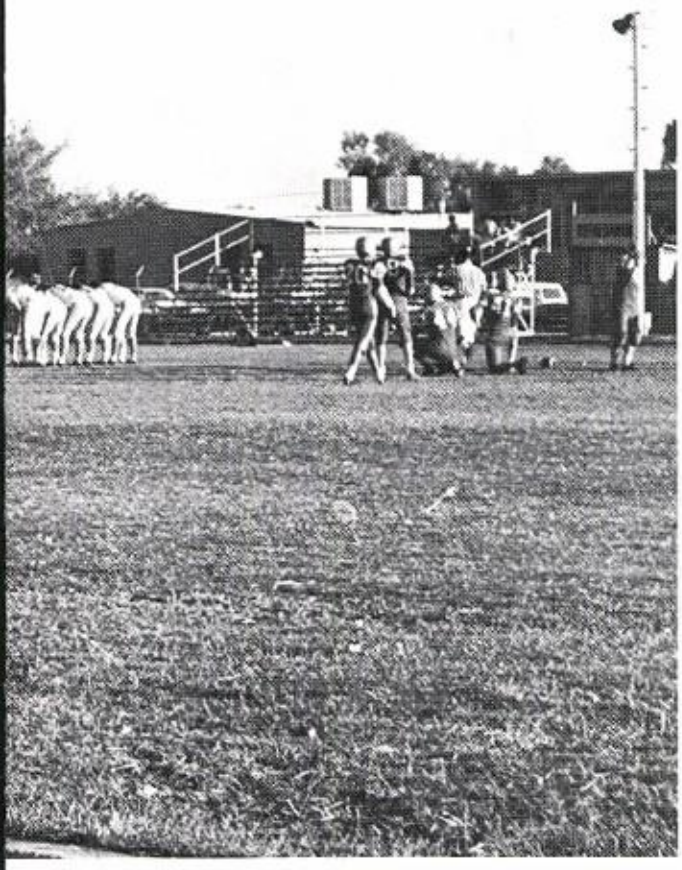








" . . . First and last, it's a Spectator Sport."



Football is, first and last, a spectator sport. It is a crash and yell, a cheer and moan, a quick snap and a thundering run, obscured by the louder thunder of the crowds.

Football is also months of preparation, of serious consultation, of practice and practice and more practice until you're as much a part of the field as the turf you hit every play.

It is anger and frustration at an injury that keeps you out of a game, because the pain is only a secondary thing, an incidental.

Mainly, underlying everything, is worry. The worry starts at the end of the last game of the previous year. Will the team have the guts to take the pressure? What play can be used with the material coming up? Will a good J.V. go on to varsity? What will the other teams look like? The worrying goes on until the last game, when it starts all over again.

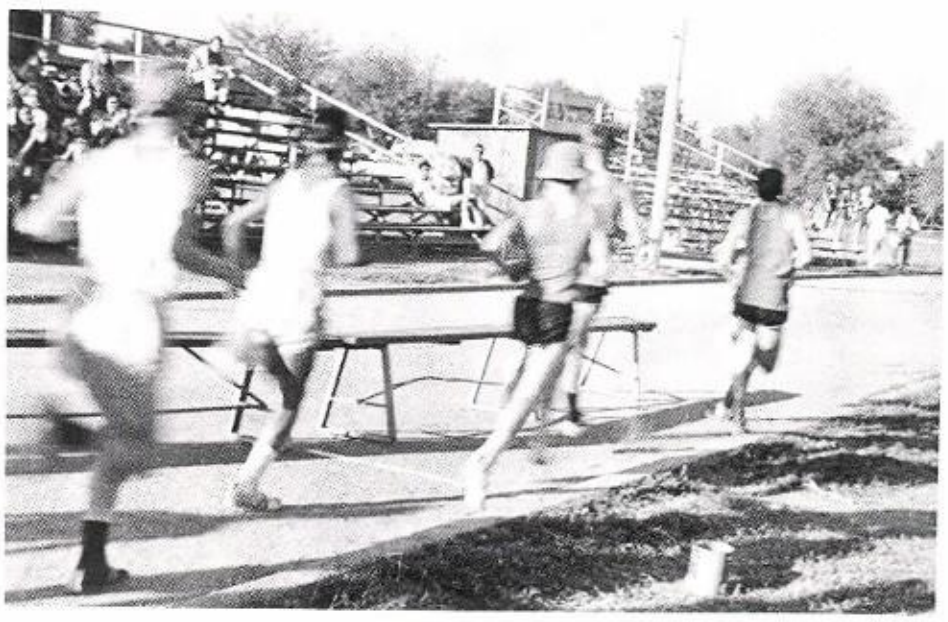
The Cardinal



The grueling pace of miles and miles of running over all terrain is etched into the very faces of Glendale's small but powerful Cross Country. Being so small, friendship has its best chance to grow here as in no other activity. The first guy to come in from running a two mile race waits for the last to come in, and everybody runs the race to the end.

Possibly in no other sport than wrestling is one individual so pitted against another. The heaving mass of muscle below you is just as determined as you are to win this contest. There is no one else to rely upon. The only thing that will pull you through is your skill, strength, agility, but most of all, courage.

And, after the match, you and your opponent part as good friends, because you know he tried his best, and that you did your best, and that the best man did win.

Lightning reflexes . . . skill . . . stop, move left . . . move right . . . a fast reach, a faster recovery. These are the things you see as you watch the blur of action commonly called a tennis match, and Glendale excelled in these qualities throughout the year. Truly a sport in which the individual develops himself to the fullest.

Teams Look Forward with Confidence

While the year hadn't opened up for baseball when the yearbook went to press, the Cardinal line-up offered its best, as Steve Quihuis left, and Dale McCormick, right, prove. The team, as a whole, is formed under the careful direction of Varsity Coach Ed Green, as coaches Jim Gualdoni and Bob Forrey develop the individual's skills to the peak in the Junior Varsity and Freshman levels.

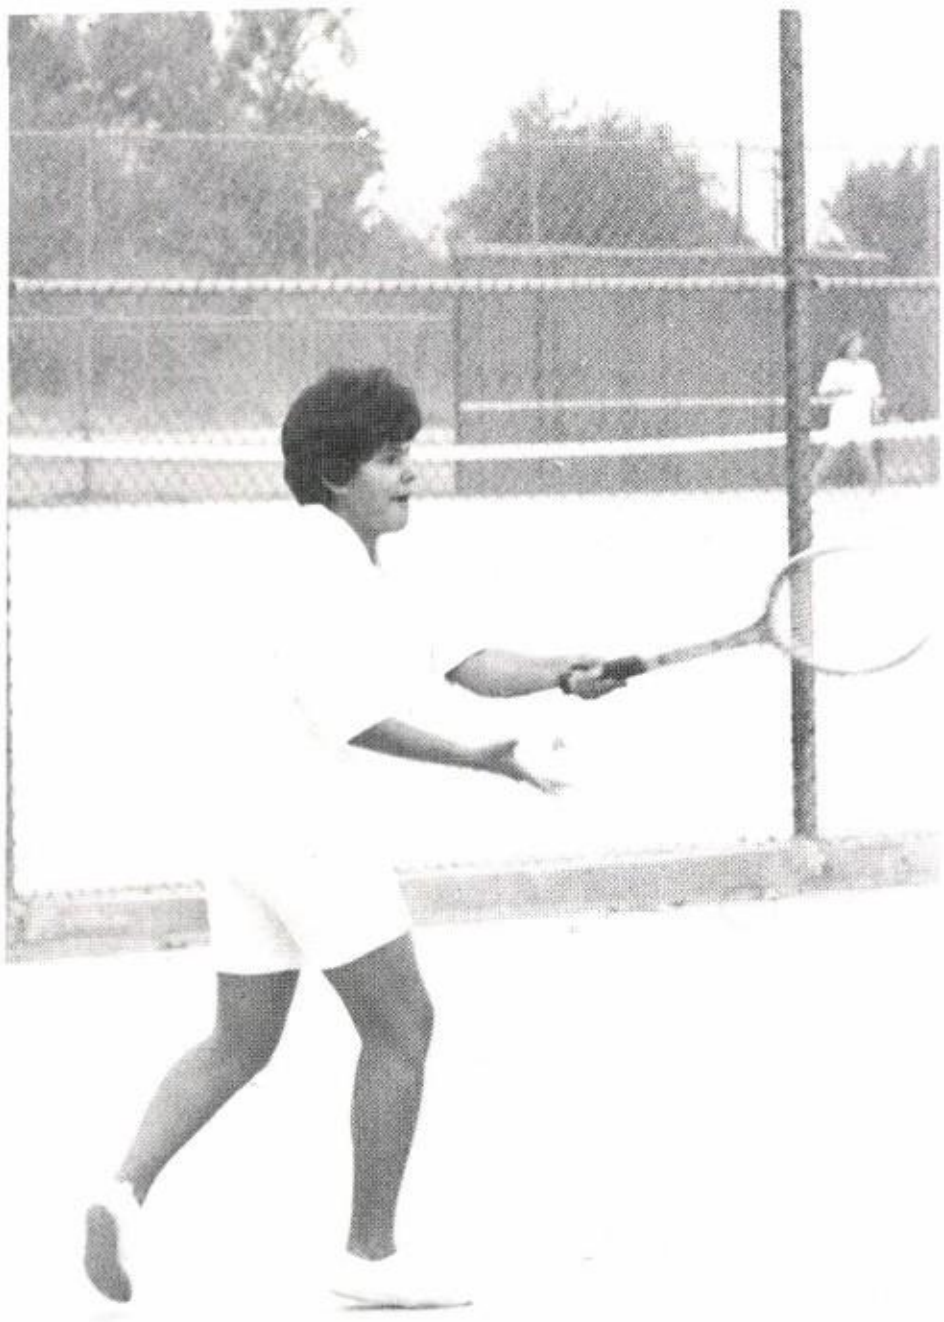
Frosh Girls Have Spirit



The freshman girls' tennis team had a disappointing season but despite this, many of the girls still came out for the Junior Varsity team.

The J.V. and the Varsity have fourteen matches with schools all over the valley ending with the division playoffs.

Every school in the division enters two doubles teams and two singles players and then from there the top four placings in each event will go to state, which this year will be held in Tucson.

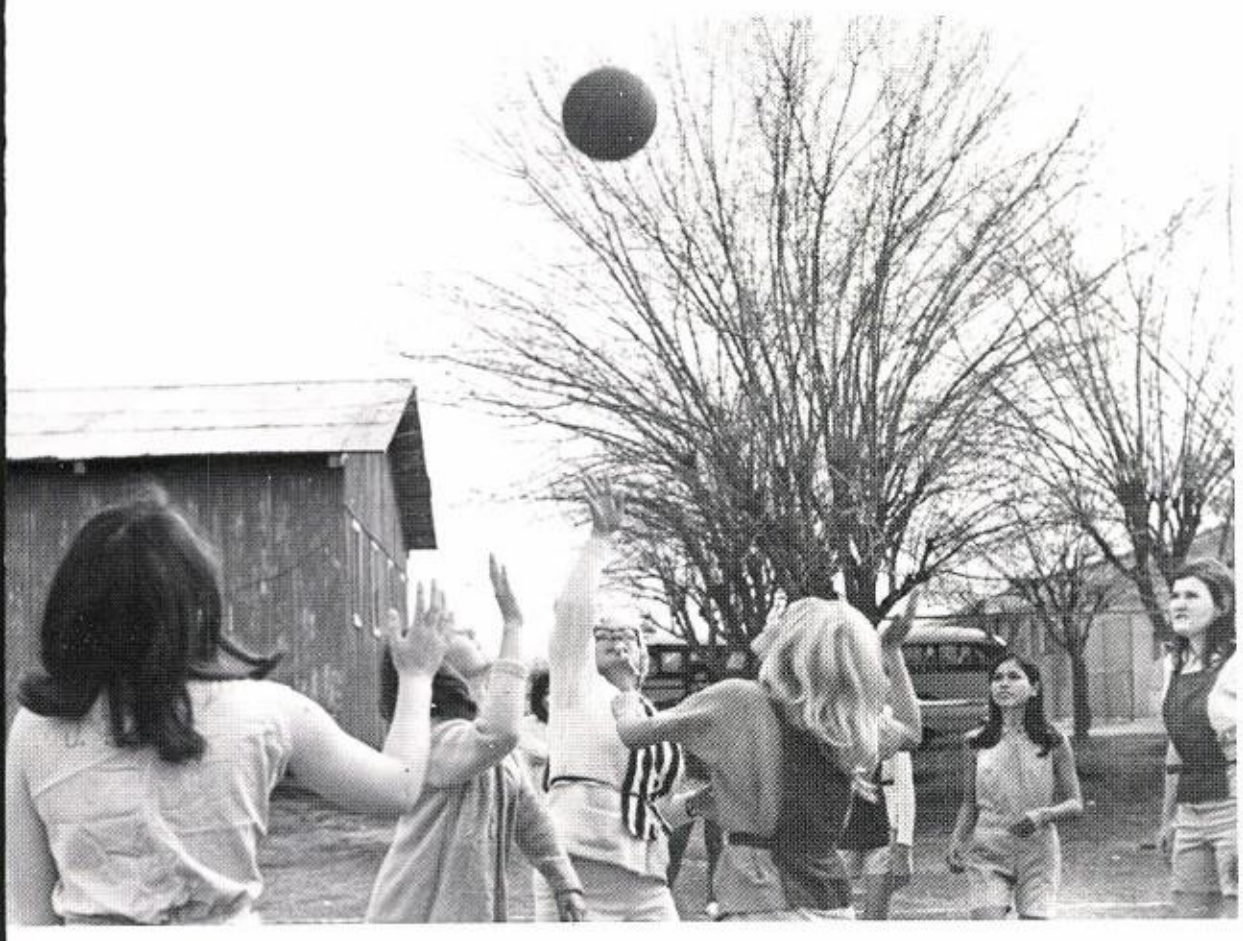
Fencing Comes To GHS

For the first time in the history of Glendale, the art of fencing is being taught and played. The girls' P.E. department gave instruction on it, then there was competition within the class, and then to end with, there was a tournament of all fencers.

Volleyball Enjoyed By All

GAA volleyball is a very fast paced brand of the sport. Many different teams are used and the competition ranges through all girl teams to mixed co-ed and co-ed doubles matches.

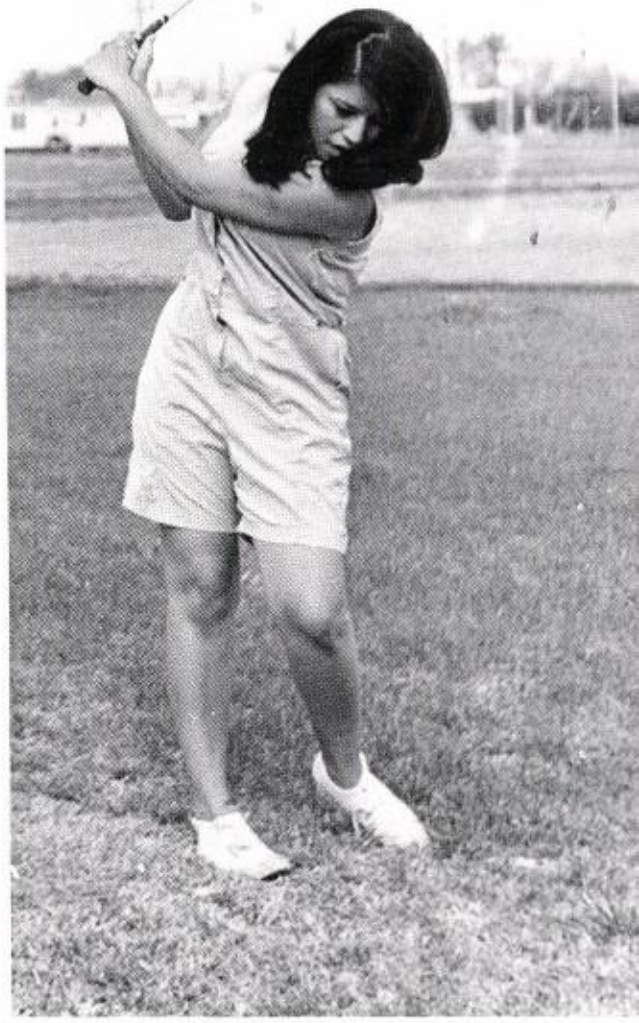
Basketball And Hockey Build Endurance



Basketball and hockey are popular team sports in G.A.A. In basketball alone there were ten teams with from six to eight girls on each team, in a double elimination tournament.

Competition is keen as at the end of the year awards will be given at the G.A.A. Banquet to all first place teams in each sport.

Golf And Archery Requires Good Aim



Badminton

And Softball: Effective Intramurals

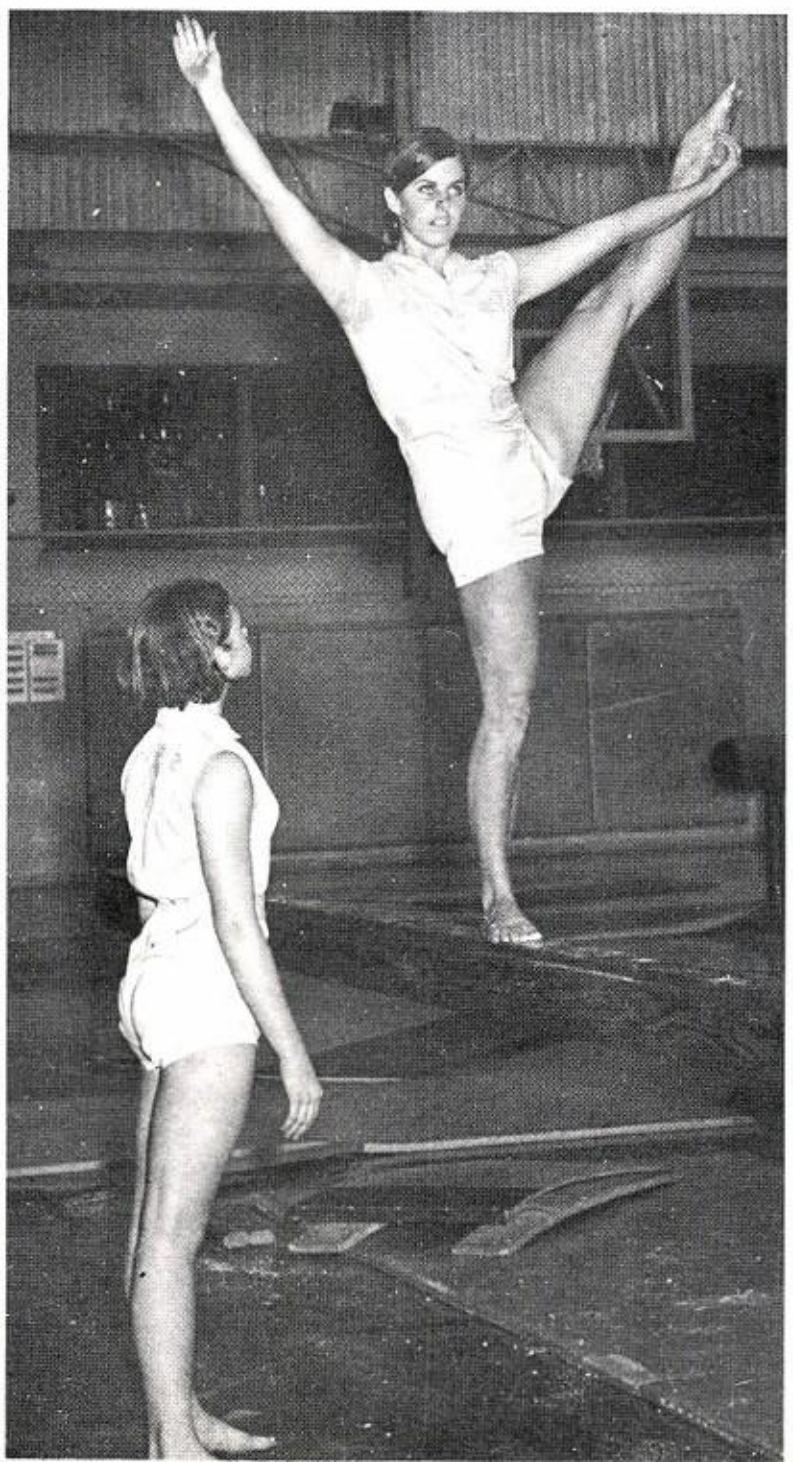
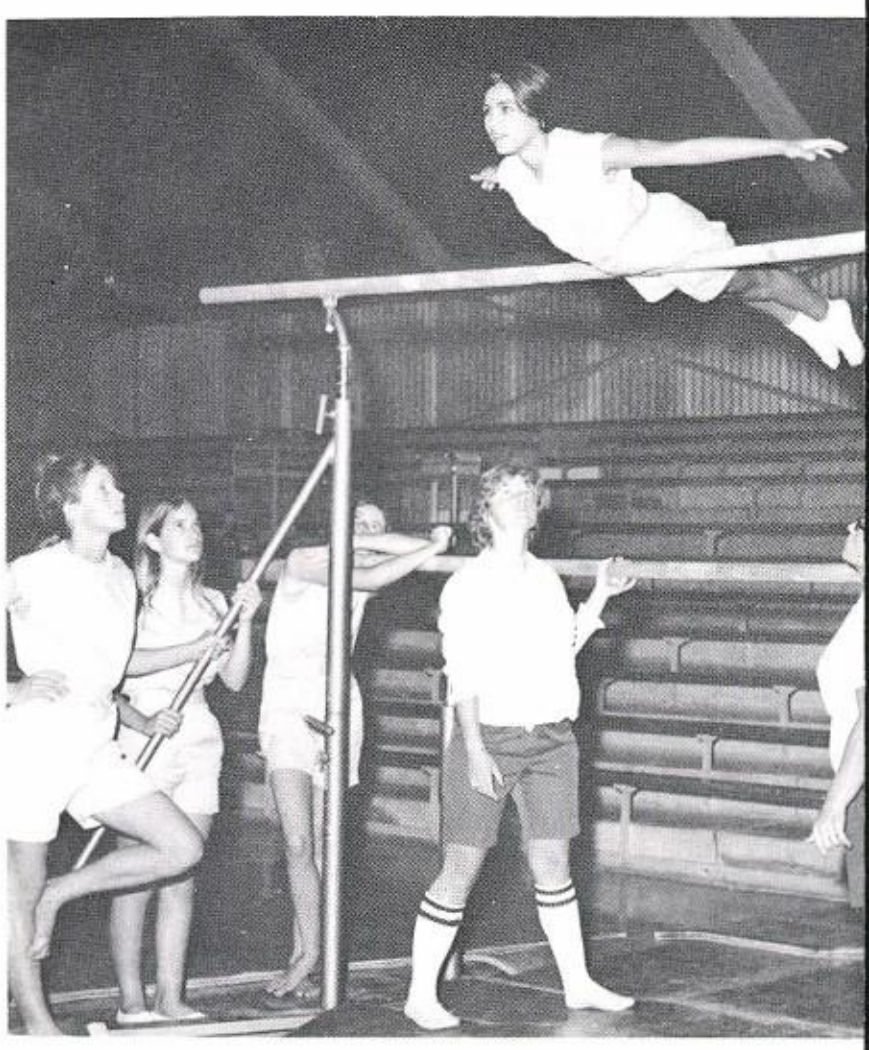
At the top of the opposite page Linda Aldama practices her swing as she is about to hit the ball.

Softball and badminton is enjoyed by everyone. You could play singles, doubles, or co-ed badminton in G.A.A. sponsored tournaments.

Gymnastics





This year the girls' P.E. classes spent six weeks of instruction and practice on gymnastics.

The girls could work on the trampoline, the uneven parallel bars, the balance beam, the horse, and there were mats for tumbling and free exercise.

In class, the girls had to make up a routine on any of the six events and then they would be graded on the originality, difficulty and performance of it.

G.A.A. later held a competition of all events within the classes and then there was competition among the finalists.

Early morning practices, sore feet, endless hours of work, and many rewarding experiences are all included in the life of a Cardette. The Glendale Pom Pon Girls are one of the finest in the state as proven by their superior rating at the University of Arizona Band Day. They perform at all football and basketball games, parades, and assemblies—all of which help to boost the spirit of Glendale High.

This year the squad is led by captain Nancy Mutchmore. A great deal of her time is devoted to Pom Pon—always making it a better, more precision line. Another girl who works very hard for the Cardettes is Maureen Hackett, you don't see her dancing on the line, but her efforts are clearly shown behind the scenes. As manager, she prepares the music, helps the girls get ready, and countless other little jobs which often go unnoticed. The last thanks, and most important, are to Mrs. Leslie Collins. As sponsor for three years, she is constantly improving the line and building character in each of her girls.

The Glendale Cardettes are a great asset to any school and Glendale is really lucky to be their chosen home!

Cheerleaders cheer at all football and besketball games, support the team, stimulate school spirit, and form the nucleus of the Pep Club. Peppy, the Card, is their mascot, whose identity is revealed in the spring.

The cheerleaders organize and run the pre-season and the homecoming pep rallies in the fall.

The purpose of the Pep Club is, "To create an efficient organization; to establish loyalty, to insure unity among the student body, to promote the involvement of students in activities on campus, and to stimulate spirit on campus."

Mrs. Freehill is the sponsor for both the cheerleaders and the Pep Club.

The purpose of the Girls' Athletic Association is to further interest in athletics for girls, to foster a spirit of sportsmanship and cooperation among schools, and to promote a higher mental and physical efficiency within themselves.

Girls participate in many sports. Some of these are softball, basketball, volleyball, bowling, archery, square dancing and co-ed volleyball.

The spiritleaders, chosen by the members of the club, are responsible for organizing and running tournaments for their respective sports.

At the beginning of the year a welcome party is held to welcome all new membrs into the club.

Sponsored by Mrs. Phillips, G.A.A. is for all girls taking P.E. who want to earn their sports letter.

Letters worn proudly

The members of the Lettermen's Club are drawn from those players who have earned a varsity letter. It promotes interest in the various sports both at high school and grade school levels. Lettermen's also sponsors Math, Spanish, and English contests, a Driver's Banquet, and makes contributions to organizations such as the Foreign Exchange Program.

Club officers for 1968-1969 are: Mike Munoz, president; Dale McCormick, vice president; Jim Contes, secretary-treasurer; Gary Tolmachoff, sergeant-at-arms.

Lettergirls has four main purposes: to increase girl's athletics, to stimulate a greater interest in th Girls' Athletic Association, to make girls' athletics of wider interest to the whole student body, to exemplify sportsmanship, and stress scholarship and leadership.

Tri-Hi-Y
Jane K. Combs

Hi-Y and Tri Hi-Y are service clubs established in joint cooperation between the high school and the community YMCA and YWCA. Members are required to live by the Hi-Y and Tri Hi-Y platform: "Clean Speech—Clean Athletics — Clean Scholarship — Clean Living." The purpose of the clubs is: "To create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character."

Both clubs work very hard serving Glendale High, YMCA and YWCA, and the YMCA World Service Organization. These clubs also plan Christmas activities.

Future Farmers of America Win at Fair

A concentrated program of vocational agriculture is offered by Glendale High and many of the students who are enrolled in it participate along with members of the student body as a whole in the activities of FFA or the Future Farmers of America. Among these activities are the sponsorship of the Harvest Dance and FFA Bar-B-Q's. They attended conventions and fairs winning many ribbons and awards of recognition.

The Future Nurses of America or FNA is for all people who are considering a career in nursing. They do many things to learn of this profession, such as going to hospitals throughout the year.

They also sponsor a bi-annual sucker sale. The proceeds of this sale go into a scholarship fund for one of the Seniors who. are going into nursing. They hope to issue two such scholarships this year.

In the Radio Club, members are able to do different things. A person may learn the International Radio Telegraph code for his Novice License, or repair radios, or build electronic kits. John Batcheller earned the first Novice License this year. His call letters are WN7RM. The Radio Club also talks with other school clubs through short wave.

Science Club is an extension of the science classes. The members of this club are budding young scientists who go on field trips to further their scientific knowledge. Other areas of science are explored in addition to those taught here at Glendale.

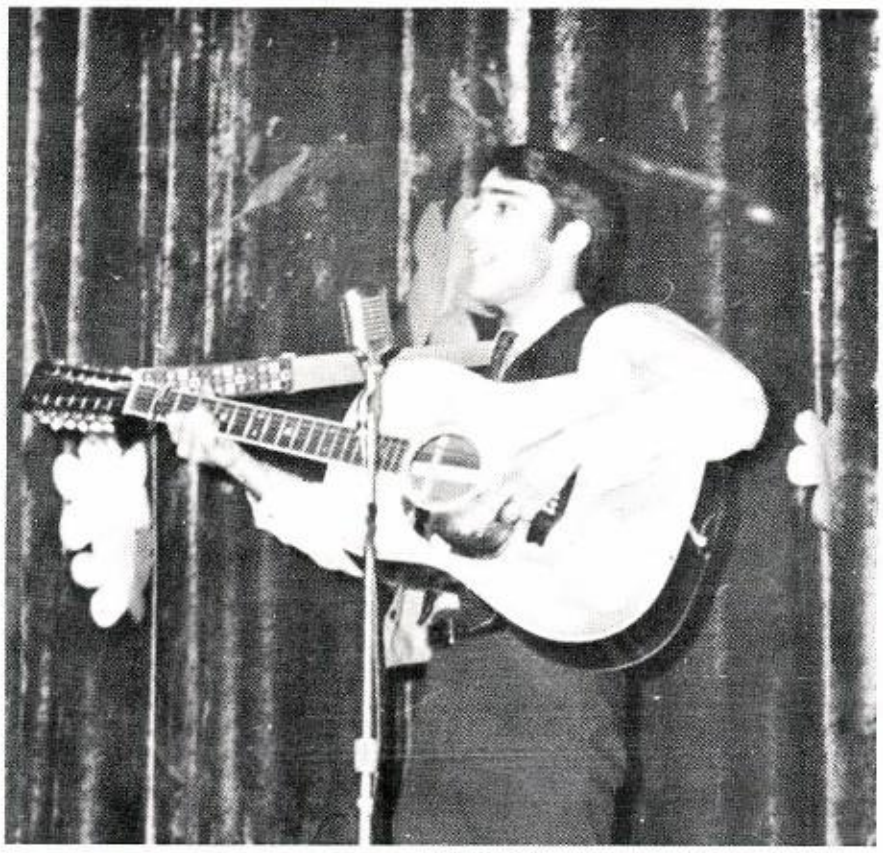
Fellowship Creates Friendship



Mr. Kim Kruelick leads songs at Fellowship Assembly.

The problem of understanding one's fellow man is one of the most difficult problems in mankind's history. It is a problem which must be resolved, for, as the flight of Apollo showed, we are together on this planet and can go nowhere else. To resolve this problem two years ago the students of Glendale High formed the Fellowship Club. Still suffering growing pains, it is never the less a definite part of the scheme of things.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Goldstein and Mr. Branson, the membership of the club is filling in the gap of misunderstanding by having inter-high school parties, sponsoring scholarships to the Anytown human relations camp, and by its very existence creating friendship.

One of the newest and most promising clubs on campus this year is the American Field Service or AFS Club.

Starting its "Freshman" semester under President Brian Easley and Vice President Steve Lunn (who is also GHS's AFS exchange student from New Zealand) the clubs sole purpose is to guide our future exchange students through their stay in the U.S.

One of the unique things about AFS club is that the officers are elected in the spring and serve through the summer and following school year.

AFS club boasts an impressive initial membership of 26 and the officers expressed hopes that this number will grow in the years to come.

The purpose of the Spanish Club is to study Spanish culture and its influence on our daily life. Club members enjoy fiestas and celebrations for which there is not enough time during regular class sessions. At one large party during the year the Spanish Clubs of the other four high schools are guests. At a spring dinner the graduating seniors are honored. There is always a Christmas party with pinatas and music.

German Club promotes interest in German among the other high schools. Four times a year the high schools hold a party for all the German students. The Faschings fest, a costume party, was held at Glendale this year.

A Year

in the Life . . .

Class of '69 closes out 4 big years

Soon to graduate, the class of 1969 has many things to look back on. Homecoming floats, rummage sales, A.F.S. field days and lettermen's talent shows remind us of our work and its rewards. The Senior Class has been privileged in giving two homes to foreign exchange students and for the first time in a long time we sent one abroad. One of our more notorious accomplishments was the provision of a female Student Body President and the revision of the Student Body Constitution.

Twelve years of studying are coming to an end, but an end that marks a new beginning.

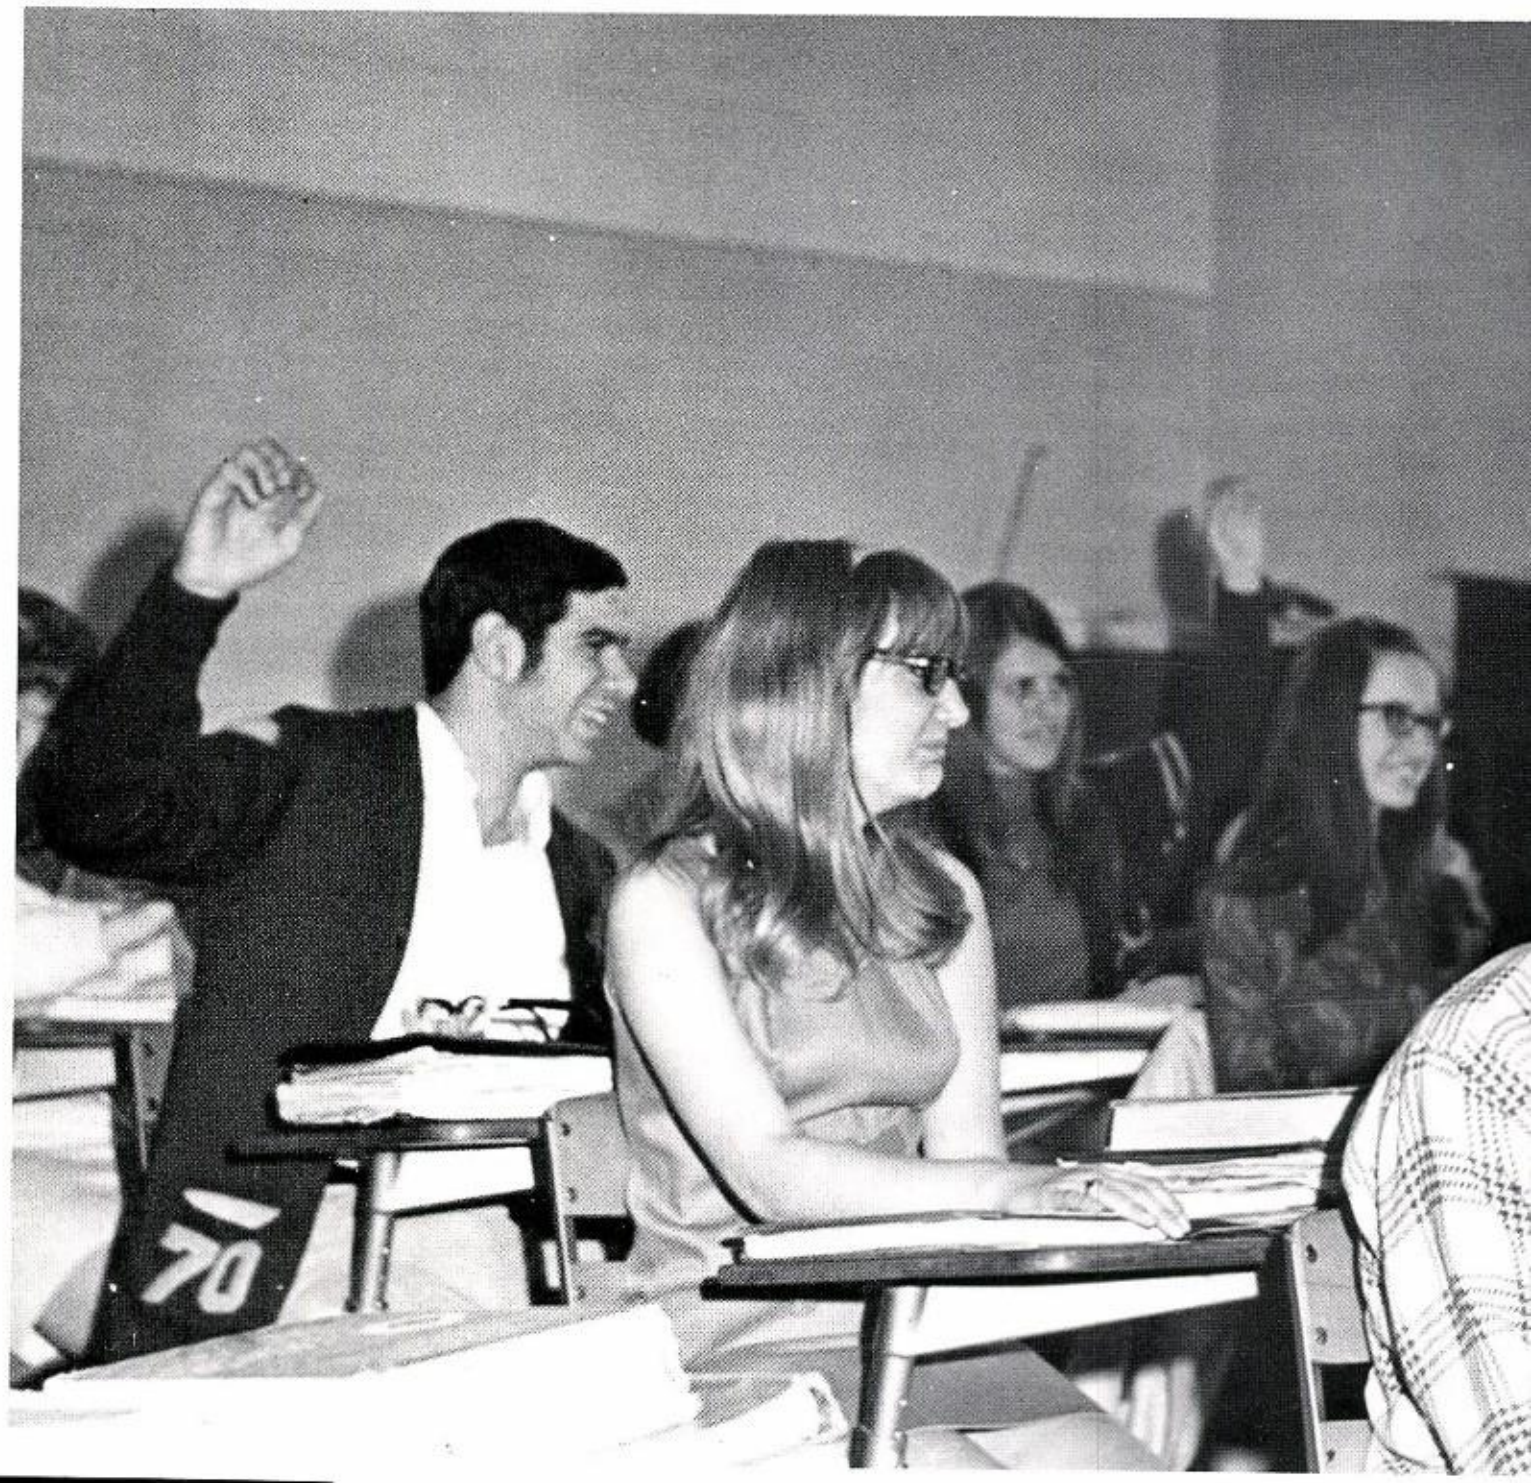
Juniors

A Year



in the Life . . .

The Junior class officers for 1969 are: Cindy Jacobs, Sec.; Jim Dyer, Pres.; Lou Ann Bayless, V.P.; Eric Wager, Treas.; and Jeannie Hooks, Hist.

Junior Class Officers

The Junior class has been very active this year. They have excelled in academics, sports and in other extra curricular activities keeping up with the tradition of Glendale High.

In order to finance the Junior-Senior Prom in the Spring, the class of '70 ran the concession stands during the football and basketball seasons. Everyone worked together to make it a huge success.

The Junior class has had many individual distinctions this year. The marching band's drum major, Dave Clark, is a Junior. The Pom pon squad was led to a superior rating by the juniors since the senior girls couldn't attend. The Junior class float took second place in the homecoming festivities. The many Juniors in N.H.S. and Quill and Scroll underscore Juniors academic achievement.

We wish to thank our sponsor, Mr. Ham, for his help in fund raising and preparation for the prom, making it the success it was.

The Sophomore Class has been taking on more responsibilities in leadership, sports, and campus activities than ever before. Among these rsponsibilities is the traditional fund raising of funds for the Valley of the Sun School. The Sophomore Class has sponsored a car wash and the traditional Sock Hop. Sophomore girls are also active in Pom Pon, GAA and Pep Club. Because of their boundless energy, school spirit, and the ability to get the job done, the Sophomore Class can look forward to becoming one of the better graduating classes of Glendale High School.

The freshman class has been very active this year.

The freshman class Homecoming float won third place.

During January they had a car wash to earn money for our dance. They also worked the concession stand for one of the home basketball games. They sponsored a dance January 17 featuring the "Crescendos." The freshman class is also planning to have more money making projects this spring.

Gin Co.

Congratulations Class of '69

Valley Gin Co. Peoria, Arizona

let us shed a little light on your FUTURE

We're pretty well equipped to do it. For here, at Arizona Public Service, is where we think you'll find opportunity knocking. We're looking for young people to fill our ranks. People with imagination and drive to meet the challenging demands of the future. People in all phases: engineering and imagineering, sales, data processing, business administration and electronic applications. But most of all we desire people with a strong sense of responsibility to the community in which they live.

We call them the bright people.

I would like to take this opportunity to offer my sincere thanks and deepest gratitude to the business-men of the valley who very graciously supported our movement. Without their benevolent assistance there might have never been a '69 Cardinal. I would like also to thank Eric, Karen, D. K., Gary, Bill, Gene, Chuck, Chris, Vera, Pam, Susie, Bart, Arlo, Tonni, Mo, Bonnie, and Lyndon but last but not least Miss Claunch for all the assistance they have given me.

Sincerely yours,

Jim Dyer, Esq.

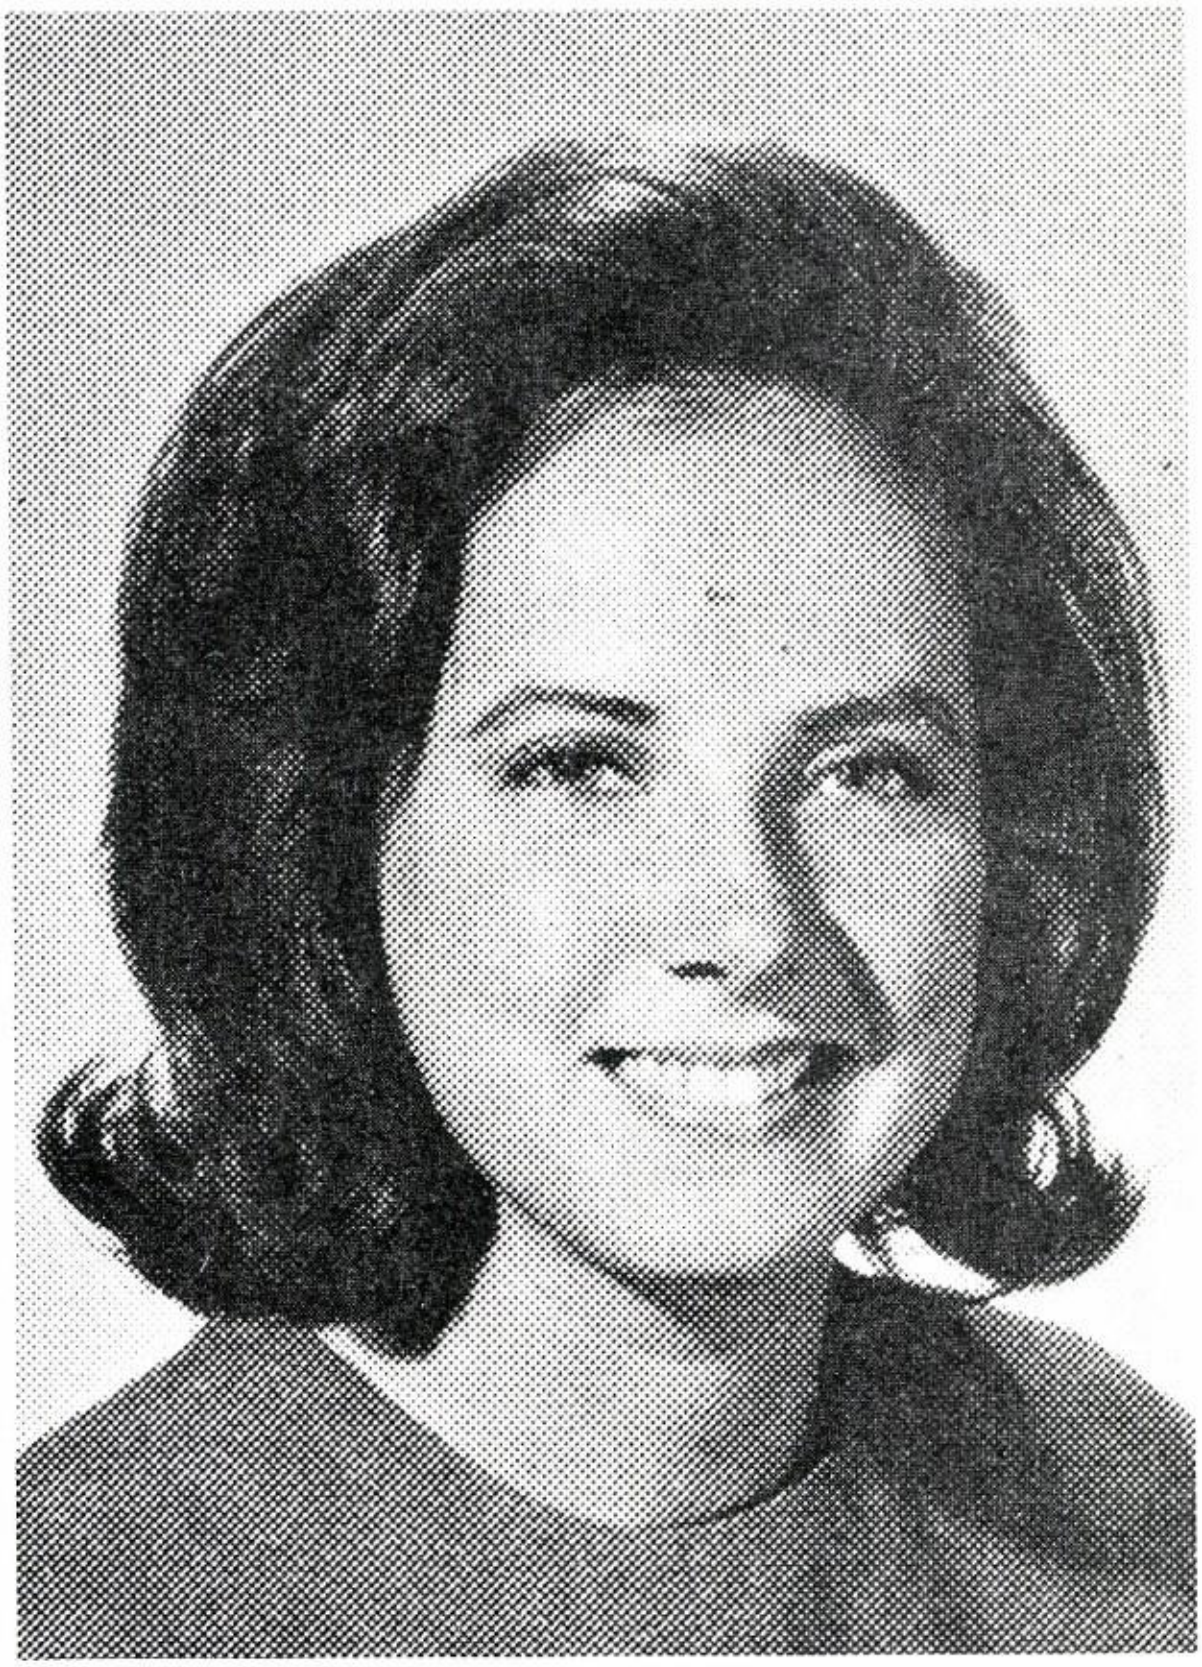
in dedication . . .



Heroism, says Webster, implies superlative, often transcendent courage—especially in fulfilling a superhumanly high purpose where the odds are against one. This book is dedicated to Miss Bettye Beauchamp who showed everyone at Glendale that such courage can come in a dainty guise.

Editor's Page the end of A YEAR IN THE LIFE . . .

It was quite a time. Quite a year. I don't think that there will ever be another year quite like it. It was a great year for student spirit (I never will forget the Cortez basketball game.)

It was a year that had its moments of deep sadness and of almost uncontrollable exuberance that revealed people as being as human as they are . . .

But that's not what I came here to talk to you about.

A great many people help to put out a yearbook and some of them are never prominently mentioned and the student body and community never realize their hard work and contributions. I know that we could have never produced the Cardinal without the help and moral support of people like Gene White, Ellen Benge, Mark Smith and Glenda Erickson. These people went far beyond the call of duty to help make the Cardinal the publication we think it is. Our Associate Editor, Chuck Lopresto and Photography Editor, Chris Wykoff belong in this number also. They worked many hours overtime putting out a yearbook that carries no academic credit for its staff members while some of them, at the same time, worked with equal vigor to produce our school paper, the Hi-Lites.

The staff is not alone, though, in people who helped the yearbook along. My cap is off to Jim Dillehay who helped us with our pictures on several occasions. To Mrs. White who let us use the journalism room more than once. To Helen Nowlin and Sylvia Hammon of Updike's Studios whose help was greatly appreciated. To all the club sponsors and officers who helped us with photo I.D.'s and copy preparation. To Ricky Nelson (snicker) and finally to all the teachers who let staff members out of class on the occasionally vital times when their help was needed.

I would like to thank as a whole and individually the staff. They've all been great. We've had a lot of Renaissance men working on the staff this year. They've done several jobs and did them all well. Gene White and Mark Smith not only did the Junior section but also helped patch up others, sold ads and took pictures. Diane Miyauchi and Leonard Escudero (Who did the Sports with help from Harold Flom.) also sold ads and did their time as photographers. Ellen Benge, David Young, and Glenda Erikkson doubled from clubs and helped Bart Leuser with the Senior Register and index. Bill Asdell took time off after he had completed the Administration section to help us sell ads. Our business staff included Jim Dyer, Karen Motoyoshi, Eric Wager and Diane Miyauchi. Chuck Lopresto headed the mammoth Activities section which included the Honorees and Royalty done respectively by Pat Murphy and Tonni Tenuta. All three later helped in the ads and with the final assembly of the book. Ron Spinella, Edgar Ethington and Ken Krieger were our photographic staff this year under the direction of editor Chris Wykoff. Our other class editors Rick Stewart, Cheri Eckert, Penny McCormick and Nita Pomeroy worked harder than many on their sections and it shows. And an especial gracias goes out to our friend and advisor, Miss Laura Claunch. Without her help, hard work and guidance the Cardinal would have ceased it's existence in the planning stage.

Once again, thank you. 8 20!
